Your Prediction.

"Lady, throw back thy raven hair,
Lay thy white brow in the moonlight bare!
I will look on the Stars, and look on thee,
And read the Page of thy Destiny!"

Fortelling
from Birth-date

One who remains sitting, his luck remains sitting, one who sleeps, his luck also sleeps; one who stands, his luck also stands and one who moves, who toils, his luck also moves, i. e. gives success. Therefore toil and toil for ever.

Your Prediction

There are many invisible powers ruling over us in this world in which we live. These invisible powers are more powerful than fire, air, electricity, etc. Astrology shows us the way to control and capture them.

The human being is always under the influence of good and bad planets. To one a good planet gives happiness, while to another a bad planet gives sorrow and distress. Not only this but one and the same planet possesses the power to give happiness to one and sorrow and distress to another. The system that influences the happiness and unhappiness of mankind through this planetary system is not known to all. Only those who have made a deep study of Astrology, those who have digested it properly, can show the real way as to how to control these influences, and how to make their powers beneficial.

Many persons think it is beyond one's imagination that these planets which are situated hundreds and thousands of miles away from the Earth can have any effect on mankind, and that it is an impossible thing. Most of such persons are theorists and atheists of the Western world. But they know not that everything—human beings and other things - are affected by the Sun and the Moon, which are hundreds and thousands of miles away. Tide and ebb in the seas are the results of the influence of the Moon. In many diseases the last day of the lunar month and the full-moon day are considered very dangerous for the patients. In the month of Falgun when the Sun enters a certain sign of Zodiac, persons suffering from insanity become more insane. Then are these not all the influences of the Sun and the Moon ? Now when we accept the influences of these two, what proofs have we to declare that other outlying planets do not have any influence on this Earth ?

Thus since we accept the effects of planets on human beings, it is necessary to know further that from each planet a peculiar element of that planet flows continuously. Just as Sun-rays are continuously pouring on our Earth, similarly rays or particles from other planets in the sky are always flowing towards the Earth, and these particles are attracted towards those other particles with which they have a homogeneous relation. The combination of these particles results in its peculiar influence.

All things on this earth are of threefold elements, viz. mild, lustful, and vicious. Now those which are mild elements are nourished by more powerful mild elements. The same is the case with other things made of the remaining elements. The Sun, the Moon and the Jupiter are mild planets. Accordingly they continuously pour mild elements, and nourish animate and inanimate objects of this earth. Mercury and Venus are lustful planets, and they nourish objects of that kind. The rest of the planets are of a vicious element, and hence they nourish objects possessing that element. In this way these planets possessing a particular element influence the objects possessing those elements.

The Sun is the soul of all the objects of this world. It is the main artery of life for all. The creation, evolution and destruction of this earth are all controlled by the Sun.

The orbit of the Sun is divided into twelve divisions. Each division is known by a sign of Zodiac. There are twelve such signs of Zodiac.

1. Aries. 2. Taurus. 3. Gemini. 4. Cancer. 5. Leo. 6. Virgo. 7. Libra. 8. Scorpio. 9. Sagittarius. 10. Capricornus. 11. Aquarius. 12. Pisces.

During any one of these twelve Zodiacal signs, or during their transition period, each human being takes his or her birth. And his or her life is thus influenced more or less according to the position of those planets in the sky.

But this does not necessarily mean that a man is entirely under the control of these planets. If one does not use one's brains and does not try to efface the bad influence of these planets, then positively he remains under their influence. But if he uses his brains and tries his best, it is within his power to efface the bad influence of these planets and get a mastery over it. This is a proved fact.

The great rishi Vasishtha has said: "Those who accept their fate as it is, and do not try to modify it, even though they may be human beings, are no better than animals."

How the power of each Sign of Zodiac affects each part of the body.

The trio of Aries, Leo and Sagittarius signs are considered of fire element. Gemini, Libra and Aquarius--this trio is considered of air element. Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces—this trio is considered of water element. And Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn—this trio is considered of earth element.

Out of these Aries, Taurus, Gemini and Cancer are considered as powerful signs, and they influence the upper part of the body. Accordingly Aries influences the head, Taurus influences the neck, Gemini influences the shoulders and hands, and Cancer influences the chest.

Leo, Virgo, Libra and Scorpio influence the central part of the body. Thus Leo influences the heart, Virgo influences the stomach, Libra influences the hips, and Scorpio influences the sexual organs.

The last four Zodiacal signs are considered as very rare, and they influence the lower part of the body. Thus Sagittarius influences the thighs, the Capricornus influences the knee-caps, the Aquaries influences the lower legs, and Pisces influences the foot.

The Sun remains in each Sign of Zodiac, mostly as follows, and it influences that Sign of Zodiac in which it remains, and makes that Sign work accordingly. One born in a particular Sign of Zodiac at the time of the Sun's arrival there, is mostly under the influence of that Sign; and hence his movements, character, habits and his life incidents are formed accordingly.

1. Aries—From 21st March to 20th April.
2. Taurus—From 21st April to 20th May.
3. Gemini—From 21st May to 20th June.
4. Cancer—From 21st June to 21st July.
5. Leo—From 22nd July to 21st August.
6. Virgo--From 22nd August to 21st Sept.
7. Libra—From 22nd September to 22nd October.
8. Scorpio—From 23rd October to 21st November.
9. Sagittarius—From 21st November to 20th December.
10. Capricornus—From 21st December to 19th January.

11. Aquarius—From 20th January to 18th February.

12. Pisces—From 19th February to 20th March.

Thus one born between 21st March and 20th April is supposed to be born during Aries Sign of Zodiac of the Solar System.

Now you must first find out from your birth-date, the Sign of Zodiac in which you are born, and then go through the details given under that heading. These details are for you. Compare yourself with the details given therein, and then try to model yourself accordingly.

For example you are born on 23rd December. This date comes under Capricornus Sign of Zodiac. Thus your Sign of Zodiac which comes under the Solar influence is the Capricornus. Now go through the matter given under the Capricornus. It is meant for those who are born during that period, and not others. In this way all should read the matter after finding out his Sign of Zodiac fixed from his birth-date.

If one is born within six days after the Sun has entered a new Sign of Zodiac from the other one, he is said to have been born during the transition period. So far as the future of a person is concerned, the details given in the past and the present Signs of Zodiac should be read jointly and followed accordingly.

These transition periods are twelve, and are as follows:

21st to 27th March

21st to 27th April

21st to 27th May

21st to 27th June

22nd to 28th July

22nd to 28th August

22nd to 28th September

23rd to 29th October

22nd to 28th November

21st to 27th December

20th to 26th January

19th to 25th February.

The knowledge of this science helps one to avoid disastrous happenings in his life. We see many mis-matched couples passing their lives in continuous quarrelling, and this is nothing but the result of their birth during incompatible Signs of Zodiac.

Here in this volume an attempt has been made to fathom and to reveal the nature, defects, character and mode of living of persons born on certain dates. One going through the same will find out for himself his own virtues and defects. This will help him to develop his good side and to diminish his bad side. He will thus be able to uplift his mode of living and experience physical, mental, economical and spiritual progress in life.

This kind of foretelling reveals one's nature, his habits, his capacity to work, and his other characteristics. Thus if we know the other fellow's birth-date, we are able to know beforehand his full character as revealed by this science. And this knowledge helps us much in our dealings with him. Moreover this future-reading reveals to us our own characteristics, and we are able to make our lives smoother by following them. Not only this, but due to the knowledge of this science we are able to know our friends, relatives and others in their true colours.

Moreover, this foretelling of the future reveals many important matters and facts useful in day-to-day life. Besides one is able to study one's nature and characteristics, and is forewarned of good and bad incidents happening in one's life, and thus he is able to remain alert and face them as they come.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born between these dates are generally divided into two categories—diligent and idle. Those of the first category are usually active and industrious. They are self-dependent.

They neither like others to work for them nor, do they like to enjoy on others' labours, whereas those of the second category are mostly idle and parasites.

Persons of the first category, viz. those of the industrious class, are very strong-minded, and they try to maintain high ideals in life. They are never tired of work, and go on working incessantly without caring for rest. But they are of an obstinate nature. This obstinacy is mostly for beneficial work; and only when they do not find any other alternative, they become obstinate, and force others to agree to their will. In spite of this they are intelligent, efficient and sharp--minded. They are very good managers, and as such they shine out in these capacities. They also put a force into the work entrusted to them, and execute it successfully.

Those of the second category being of the good-for-nothing class, generally see good in others, and feel exuberant. They accept whatever they are able to get without any labour. In short they are mostly idle, good-for-nothing, and somewhat reserved.

But if we keep the persons of these two categories apart, and only consider the abilities and the characteristics of the rest, we can safely say that they are open-minded, clear-sighted, and honest in their dealings. Those who are born during this period have a tendency to finish the work entrusted to them immediately, are zealous in their work, and firm in their decision. They do not rest till they have finished the work which they decide and undertake to do. Moreover they do not like to be guided by others; they are their own guides In a way they are their own leaders, and if chance permits them, they possess the necessary qualities to lead others also. In the struggle of life they are warriors. Their whole lives are spent in labour, and in their work they see the success of their lives.

They always endeavour to do something, and they are always busy. Their Zodiacal limb being Head, they believe in thinking and doing. They resent idleness, and therefore their brains are always busy with some constructive work or other. They are practical and always persist in reaching certain ideals.

Persons born between these dates are brave, and do not turn their backs in fights or discussions. At the same time they never plunge into anything thoughtlessly; and if they do plunge, they do not stop till they have achieved success. And if per chance they fail, they feel much grieved and dejected.

It is really worth while to bear in mind the original ideas of these persons. They march forward because of their independent thinking, and prove assets to their employers, if they are in service. They are good diplomats, and they are very clever in organization as well as in deliberation.

In spite of all this, they have one defect. They overestimate their strength and rely blindly on it, with the result that they are sometimes forced to labour beyond their capacity and then suffer heavily. Therefore it is in their interest that they should not overestimate their successes and proceed further on the strength of them. For defeats and discouragements are sure to follow, which would positively weaken their hearts and brains if not their physiques. This is one of the reasons why many persons born during this period suffer from nervous disorders.

These persons have also a tendency to interfere in every affair. If someone asks their advice, they will in spite of their utter ignorance regarding the matter, at once begin to give advice. Really speaking this is one of their biggest drawbacks. If they simply mind their own business, they are sure to achieve success and turn the same to their own advantage.

The biggest defect in the persons born in this period is that they are impatient. If they cultivate patience and perseverance, much of their work would be simplified and would become easy to achieve. But due to lack of these two virtues, most of them have proved dismal failures in their lives. Rome was not built in a day. A tree does not bear fruits as soon as it is planted. Therefore they are advised first to perform the work and then wait patiently for the results. But they lack this patience. They always hope to have immediate results. And as they do not get them, they leave the work unfinished, and thus lose the benefits to which they would have been entitled if they had finished the same.

Those born between these dates are always alert to find out their own gains, and whenever they see a chance of getting some gain, they immediately jump at the opportunity to seize it.

But if they fail in the undertaking, they become in a way obstinate and jealous. Owing to this, most of them are by nature hot-tempered and arrogant.

They cannot work swiftly. Lack of time and burden of work make them nervous. Therefore it is to their advantage to work systematically and in a chronological order.

But by nature these persons are hasty. They lack reasoning, and sometimes begin to work in blind imitation. In many cases it has been found that they lack foresight. Therefore they should first thrash out the whole thing in the mind, taking into consideration all the pros and cons, and only then agree to undertake the work.

Because of this the parents of the children born during this period should caress them fondly. If these children commit any mistakes, or if they are doing anything which is rash and unworthy of them, the parents should try to bring them round through love and sweet words. But if these children were to be treated otherwise, that would affect their brains, and they would have nervous disorders and would ultimately become useless maniacs.

Their hot temper often puts them into awkward positions. Therefore they are advised to perform important undertakings in solitude and when their minds are at peace. Since they possess inherent powers they are able to perceive everything properly when they are calm, and that leads them ultimately to success. Only when they are in a distressed condition they spoil the whole show.

These people have metaphysical powers in them. If they try, they can develop these faculties to perfection. As they are somewhat of a reserved temperament, they possess the necessary strength to achieue and develop Yogic powers.

In financial matters these persons are honest and docile. They are generous and have a tendency to spend their money for good and benevolent purposes.

These persons can appreciate beautiful things and are also lovers of music and dancing.

They are also faithfnl in friendship, and maintain them lifelong. They always keep their friends pleased, and feel exuberant in doing so.

These persons should cultivate friendship with those who are born during Leo and Libra periods, as that is beneficial to them. In fact the persons born during these two periods are their best friends. Also those born in their own period prove to be good friends.

Females born between these dates have practically the sme characteristics as the males: only they are somewhat more tender-hearted. They cannot bear to hear anybody abusing or speaking ill of their friends or relatives, and they at once retort with harsh words. All the females born during this period are mostly beautiful, loving and attractive.

But they should bear one point in mind. They should never try to undertake many works at a time and thus put a strain on their mental and physical abilities. It is desirable that they undertake a few selected works and persist in carrying them to fruition.

Marriage :

Those born under the influence of these dates should try to find their life-companions (husband or wife) from those who are born either between 22nd July and 21st August (Leo) or 22nd November and 20th December (Sagittarius), for the matches thus formed result in happy unions. Moreover the children born from these wedlocks are brilliant, intelligent, and of an active temperament.

If these people choose their life-companions from those born during other periods except those mentioned above, they mostly prove ill-fated matches. Moreover ther pogeny born of such wedlocks is not brilliant or intelligent, and in most cases they do not have any progeny at all. Their married lives are not happy, and they simply pass a life full of misery and drudgery.

Family Happiness :

Persons born between these dates are self-willed and stern in their love-affairs. They adore home and peace, and they try to make the utmost use of their working time.

Domestic lives of the persons born duriug this period is mostly happy. Yet there are occasions when they must suffer from mental anxieties. They always try to look after the welfare of their subordinates as well as their friends, relatives and acquaintances. These persons are destined to bear the sufferings owing to certain deaths in the family in their adolescent age. In short, though they will not be able to pass an easy-going and happy domestic life, they will not have to suffer from any disastrous family difficulties and anxieties.

Occupation:

Persons born during the period under the influence of Aries, are not the ones who would spend their precious time in job-huntiug. They accept at once whatever comes their way. Any kind of job is satisfactory to them.

In spite of this these persons sometimes are very careful and cautious in their occupations.

These persons often shine out as surgeons and engineers. Mechanical and technical lines are also very suitable to them. Sometimes Stock broker's or Company Agent's lines prove suitable for them as careers.

But as the lord of this Zodiacal Sign rules over the head and the brain, these persons possess liberal and intelligent views. It is owing to this fact that we find many scientists and men of letters born during this period. Since they are sweet and voluble in their talks, they become good orators, and learned professors and lecturers.

Most of the authors fluent in the art of writing descriptive articles, best essayists, renowned novelists, and world-famed poets are born in the period during the influence of this Zodiacal Sign. Those born between these dates have proved to be well-known orators and teachers.

Famous authors, writers and poets like Swedenborg, Wordsworth, Hans Anderson, were born under the influence of this sign. William Harvey, well known for his discovery of circula-of blood, was also born during this period. The famous Indian artist Ravi Varma and The Italian artist Raphael were also born during this period.

Those born under the influence of this Zodiacal Sign shine out as musicians, dancers and cinema artists. Firstly they have a taste for these lines, and secondly they have inborn histrionic abilities, with the result that they at once shine out in these lines. Betty Balfour at the age of eleven had risen to prominence from the Imperial Theatre. The world-famous cinema actress Mary Pickford had become the queen of the screen when she was merely five years old. Charlie Chaplin had risen to fame at a very young age. Thus all these renowned persons, who had achieved fame at a very young age, were born during the period under the influence of Aries.

Physical Happiness

Persons born between these dates are either tall or short-statured, strong and active. They are especially lean-bodied, sharp-sighted, of oblong countenance, dark-skinned, and broad-shouldered.

Since Aries rules over the head, the brain and the face, it is likely that the persons born under the influence of this zodiacal sign should have physical sufferings in these limbs and the body. As such they suffer headaches, eye diseases, stomach disorders, paralysis and nervous weakness. It is advisable for them to be careful at the time of teething of the children born during these dates. Also these children should be advised to keep their teeth very clean.

Females born under the influence of this zodiacal sign are healthy and strong-bodied.

Persons born between these dates are also apt to suffer from diseases of the nose, as well as urinary diseases. They are also likely to suffer from indigestion and coupling, but all these sufferings are only temporary.

These persons are advised to taboo the use of tea, coffee, tobacco, and other stimulating and intoxicating articles, since they are likely to injure them. They should try to take simple nutritious diet.

They should also be careful about fire, for they are likely to suffer from burnings, fall from high places, stumble or such accidents. They are also advised to be careful regarding their purse, for they are likely to encounter difficulties if they go on spending carelessly.

In general, they will not have many bodily ailments. As the lord of the zodiacal sign is Mars, they are not likely to suffer heavily.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues

They are open-minded, frank, candied, mirthful and honest, faithful in love-affairs, kind towards others, sentimental, and making others feel unhappy in trifle matters, active, zealous, industrious, of the nature of finishing the work undertaken. able-bodied, voluble in speech, and also inviting troubles, and quarrelsome.

Defects

They are vindictive, impatient and hasty, without any self-respect, jealous and obstinate, meddlesome, and poke their nose into every affair. Sometimes they are immoral, selfish, cruel, and harassing others by creating unnecessary quarrels.

Coalition Period

Aries sets in from 21st March, and it takes complete six days for full entry. Therefore those who are born between 21st March, and 27th March, are considered as having taken birth during this coalition period between the Pisces and Aries. In this coalition there being the union of the legs and the head, the persons who are born during this period possess wonderful brain-powers. Their intelligence works supremely in devising big-scale industries. They possess extraordinary zeal, kindness and love, and that brings them many friends. They are introspective and religious-minded. They are strong-minded and faithful, and love cleanliness.

Some of the famous persons born during Aries:

Raja Ravivarma.	Poet Wordsworth.
Major B. D. Basu.	Swedenborg.
Charlie Chaplin.	Shakespeare.
Mary Pickford.	Prince Bismark.

Nature—Virtues and Ability.

Persons born during the influence of this Zodiacal sign are strong-willed and practical. They possess an orderly mind and are careful and diligent in the work entrusted to them.

They never rest till they finish the work which they have undertaken. Strong and decisive nature is a special peculiarity of those persons. At the same time they are a little mild and somewhat cold-tempered.

They prefer to adopt new ways and means and do not like to follow the old methods. They feel satisfied only when they do the same work by several different ways. Though they are slow, they are precise and orderly in their work.

They somewhat lack in reasoning, and that is one of the reasons why they need an outline for the work they desire to undertake. But once they are made to understand what they have to do, they complete it without fail in full detail. Though they are a bit weak both physically and mentally, still when they become angry, they care a hang for anybody. At that time they lose their temper most violently, and it becomes very difficult to pacify them.

In doing any kind of work they are very careful regarding their own personal gains. As far as possible they do not allow any personal losses. In making acquaintances they are careful to ascertain first as to how far they are going to benefit by it.

They are of obstinate and unbending tendencies. They act according to their own will and work accordingly. They possess a fine taste for literature, and owing to this many of them are very hard-working and industrious. An overbearing will, and courage give them opportunities to rule over others and direct them by accepting leadership.

Those born between these dates are their own masters, and they work according to their own decisions. They possess one fine faculty, viz. that of knowing others' minds, and this enables them to perform such works which please others.

In spite of all this they have one bad defect, and it is this defect that obstructs their progress. They do not hesitate to reveal business secrets. They cannot keep business or professional secrets to themselves. Since they themselves are generous and broad-minded, they take others as their well-wishers, and this makes them reveal their professional secrets.

Sometimes they are able to detect this defect, and hence feel apologetic for revealing professional secrecy.

Young persons born during this period are honest and straightforward in their work, and sometimes others make use of their simplicity by duping them. But when these people have enemies, they are relentless. Only in solitude and peaceful atmosphere they are able to make decisions regarding their occupation or profession. They are never able to come to a decision when they are in an excited mood, or in crowded places. Even though they accept counsel from everybody, they act according to their own will.

Persons born between these dates are brave, fearless and daring. They are pleasure-seeking, and when chance permits they are drawn more towards merry-making than hard labour. Thus they shine out as servants better than as bosses.

These persons possess abilities to lead a public life. They are able to find out the public mentality by feeling its pulse. As they possess a balanced mind they are able to perform the duties entrusted to them with zeal and trust.

Generally they carry weight in their actions as well as in their words. They speak decisively and authoritatively, and due to this the public feels respect and honour towards them.

Persons born between these dates are able to push their way in the business field. How to conduct business, what are its secrets, what is the present demand, all these they are able to fathom out quickly. The world-famous tea magnate, Sir Thomas Lipton, was born between these dates. The way he started his career and rose to heights in business proves our statement.

These persons are able to form many friendships. Whatever field they choose to enter, they will have a number of friends there, and .they are sure to benefit through these friendships.

We have already stated before that these persons are obstinate, and this defect sometimes puts them in great difficulties. In spite of this they are worthy friends. When they are fully acquainted with you, they do not hesitate to do anything for you. Though of a slightly conservative mentality, they have an aptitude for work. Hence they give first preference to themselves and their near relatives. In good times they allow benefits to go to their kith and kin.

These persons are jolly, imaginative and honest. They are very social. They can create a halo around them. In appearance they are very strong, and possess an extraordinary capacity to endure. They love children, and they enjoy giving them the right sort of education. Their Zodiacal lord being Venus, they are sensitive and tender-hearted. Even a casual remark makes them uneasy and they feel offended.

They have an eye for beauty. They desire to have everything in an orderly manner, but they are not prepared to undergo any troubles for that.

In financial matters they are strictly honest and straightforward. Though they cannot be frugal, they are not spendthrift.

These persons are of a haughty nature also, and as such they sometimes fall to great depths of meanness and create a panic among the public. Though they are daring at times, they become cowards at other times, and at such times very cleverly save their skins.

If the persons born between these dates make it a point to speak only when necessary, maintain one fixed ideal in life and keep themselves on the path of honesty and morality, then without doubt they will rise in life and make progress. They should acknowledge His greatness and have faith in Him.

It is necessary for them to have saintly company, keep a check on their mental attitudes, not eat gluttonously, and live economically.

Females born between these dates are apt to be carried away by others and are likely to be used as targets. It is therefore advisable for parents to keep a watch on their daughters. She should have good company, and should not be allowed to deviate from the path of righteousness.

Women born between these dates are thoughtless and are careless about results.

Marriage:

Persons born between these dates should form life companionship with persons born between 22nd August and 21st September (Virgo) and with those born between 21st December and 19th January. (Capricornus). These marriages prove happy ones, they are of long duration, and do not have any obstacles.

Children born from these marriages are virile, adventurous, and long-living.

But marriage with persons other than those mentioned above prove mostly failures and they have to be carried on anyhow.

Domestic happiness:

Persons born during these dates become happy and pass a jolly life. They will have harmonious relations with husband or wife and other members of the family. If there are no other bad stars to obstruct them, they will have children also. Their married life will prove to be happy, smooth, and full of joy.

Occupation :

It is necessary to arrange for proper education and training for those born between these dates. Whatever they learn once, they do not forget, and they make rapid progress in it. Backing and praise from others are very necessary for these persons.

These persons shine out where concerned with matters financial. And as such they shine out as Accountants, Hotel Managers, Doctors, Secretaries and Tailors.

They also prove efficient as Mechanics, Artists, Electricians and Directors.

We find many well-known authors and poets born between these dates. World-famous dramatist Shakespeare, Henry Fielding, Daniel Defoe, Jerome K. Jerome, Poet and Philosopher Rabindranath Tagore and others were born under the influence of this Zodiacal sign.

Apart from the above Great Machiavelli, Inventor Edison, Alexander Pope, Madame Melba, Oliver Cromwell, Duke of Wellington and other world-renowned critics, scientists, and political leaders, were also born between these dates.

Persons born between these dates also prove successful as agriculturists, building contractors, decorators and compounders.

Females born during the influence of this Zodiacal sign become good nurses and governesses. Moreover they are efficient in cooking and house-managemet.

They are advised to bear in mind one point specially. And it is that instead of relying on others' wisdom, they should cultivate their own creative faculties and be directed by them, for the reliance on the advice of others is sometimes likely to put them in an awkward position.

Physical Health and Happiness:

Persons born under the influence of this Zodiacal sign are physically stout, strong and fatty. Their faces and noses are broad. The skin of their bodies is deep red and brilliant. They have broad shoulders. Sexual desires are born in them as soon as they reach puberty. They posess very strong sexual desires. It is therefore advisable for them to take exercise and maintain reading of good books to keep the body healthy.

Neck or throat is likely to trouble them: therefore they should be careful about it, and take such diet so that its trouble may be minimised. They should neither talk very loudly, nor weep much. They should not do such work which would strain the nerves of the throat. For these persons are every now and then affected with the diseases of the throat, teeth and tonsils.

At the same time it is advisable for them to be careful about their eyes, chest, teeth, and nose; otherwise they are likely to suffer from the diseases of these limbs, and as such they would not be able to enjoy a healthy life.

They are also likely to suffer from stomach disorders such as dropsy. There are two reasons for giving rise to these disorders; first overeating, and secondly uncontrolled sexual desires. In order to be free from these disorders they should check their diet and keep their sexual desires under proper control.

Their Zodiacal limbs being heart and neck, it is likely that these parts of the body would be affected every now and then. But one should not be disheartened and should continue taking precautions. Open air and walking exercise will do them much good.

Blood congestion in the brain, diseases of the urinary system and stomach disorders, dropsy, stomach-ache are some of the ailments from which they are likely to suffer.

They are advised to keep good company, take regular exercise, avoid any hasty work, and also avoid stimulant and intoxicating drinks, to ensure a healthy and agile life.

They will maintain a sound financial position. They will not have any notable financial ups and downs. Earning of money will be an easy job for them. In a way they will not have to hanker after money, but money will come looking for them. Some of these persons are likely to waste money excessively in pleasures, and this may put them in an awkward financial position; but those wishing to pass a smooth and happy life without any obstacles will have no monetary troubles at any time.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues.

They are diplomatic, decisive, methodical, regular and precise, peace-loving and pleasure-seeking, trustful and not caring for opposition, honest, jolly, straightforward in monetary matters, and they possess an ability to fathom the public mentality.

Defects.

They are cunning, obstinate, proud, hot-tempered, as also idle and blank-headed. They are violent, cheating, showing their backs in times of crises, and thus putting others in danger. They are extremely selfish people and are ready to swallow profits earned by the labour of others.

Coalition Period

Taurus sets in on 21st April, and it takes full six days for complete entry. Therefore those born between 21st and 27th April are supposed to have been born during this coalition period of Aries and Taurus.

In this coalition it is asserted that a union of head and heart has taken place, and as such persons born during this transition period, though not physically strong, are of a stubborn and decisive nature. This enables them to stand as rocks against any critical times.

Persons born during this coalition period are fearless, industrious, and optimistic. They have a curious mentality that what they prefer, must also be preferred by others. And it is sometimes the case that in order to justify this mentality they become violent and cruel.

Some of the famous personalities born between these dates

Poet Rabindranath Tagore.

H. H. Maharaja Krishnakumarsimhji of Bhavnagar.

William Shakespeare.

Zodiacal Signs of similar Elements ... ...Libra and Aquarius.

The Sun enters into Gemini on 21st May and leaves it on 20th June.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Most of the persons born during this period will be found having double personalities, i. e. at one time they will be found engrossed in one work, and next moment they will be found having greatest disgust for that work. They like to read and to work; but at the same time they also like to idle away their time – to waste their precious time in playing. They desire to save money as well as to spend it. At one moment they believe themselves to be happy, and the next moment they believe that they are very unhappy. In this way they are contented and discontented both simultaneously.

Since they possess such contradictory temperaments, they are always found to be in an agitated condition, and it is extremely difficult for them to have any control over this agitated condition. These persons are, therefore, advised to give way to their better type of temperament and lead the life by having faith and trust in that kind of temperament.

It is an established fact that those who have not triumphed over the various mental emotions by developing higher virtues, pass a very miserable life. They can only triumph in life by eradicating these baser elements, this base nature. And in order to achieve this they should divert themselves to matters spiritual, viz. metaphysics.

Those who are born between these dates are happy, attractive, and possess brilliant imaginative mind. They mostly work through their mental faculties. They prefer to do intellectual work, and they are clever, swift and zealous in their work.

Sometimes it becomes very difficult to fathom their personalities. They can never be known in their true colours, and for this they themselves are not responsible, because it is due to the influence of the Zodiacal sign under which they are born, which guides their personalities.

We have seen before that they live mostly by their intellect. They possess very sharp and extraordinarily powerful intellectual faculty. It is therefore a decided fact that, if they are given only intellectual undertakings and given proper direction in that line, they will shine out extraordinarily.

Persons born under the influence of this Zodiacal sign are very loving and generous-hearted. They are very polite, full of manners, and kind towards all. Because of these virtues they are loved by all. They are proud of their heritage. They are neither selfish nor miserly. They are very anxious to relieve the distress of the poor, and are always ready to help them. Sometimes they go in this matter to such a length that they even harm their own interests.

They are extremely eager to acquire knowledge and superintellectual powers. They are very studious in literary and educational matters. They are always eager to know something new. Many persons born under the influence of this Zodiac have become famous authors and orators.

These persons mostly prefer to do two works at a time, and this is the reason why in the end they have to leave one work unfinished. It is therefore most advisable for them to co-opt others when undertaking any work. This would result in finishing both the works completely.

Change in work always proves a recreation for them, and this tendency leads them to begin a new work before they have finished the former one. And this kind of unstable mentality makes them face many failures and disappointments in life.

Moreover these persons do not have foresight. Without deciding as to what will be the outcome of the venture, they throw themselves into it, and it leads them to failures. This is why they spend whatever they can. But if once they are able to maintain control over their mental instability, they are able to amass great wealth, and are able to donate large sums for charitable purposes. It is wonderful to see the changes in life created by the persons who are able to maintin such control over their mental susceptibilities.

The parents of children born under the influence of this Zodiac, are advised to be careful about the education of the latter. They should adopt every means to make them take interest in their education. If a little of inactivity enters a child, it is sure to become an inactive and useless person in life.

Children born between these dates are ambitious, but they are ambitious only mentally. However, if their ambition is encouraged and directed in a proper channel, their intellect is sharpened and they become very good rhetoricians and orators.

These persons have strong beliefs in matters religious; but they do not have them with one religion only, but towards all religions.

Moreover these persons are more loving, generous, and selfless than persons born during other Zodiacal signs.

These persons show a marked superiority in debates and discussions. They easily break down the arguments of the opposition. In reply to the questions of the opposition, they put such searching questions that the opposition is immediately disarmed, and it retires from the field. These persons are able to play a very good part in political movements and agitations.

In friendship these persons are looked upon with suspicion, but that is a false impression. In fact, they are honest and firm. Moreover they are idealists. They maintain the friendships to the end.

Sometimes persons born between these dates are very talkative and are given to spreading false rumours. But if they keep their tongue in control and if they speak only when necessary, they are able to achieve very good results in life.

These persons are able to achieve very good results in the middle of their lives. They are especially very fortunate in business and in share and stock exchange.

Females born during this period are obedient, loving, and faithful to their husbands. They have an aptitude for beauty in nature as well as in art. They love colours and music. Many women born between these dates have achieved world-wide fame in history. Queen Victoria, Queen Elizabeth, and Mrs. Helen Fawcett were born during this period.

Persons born between these dates should never be afraid or become suspicious, but should keep courage and withstand any difficulties that may come across. They should keep calm, maintain control over the tongue, and should keep company of such persons as are not talkative but are calm and peaceful in their behaviour.

Marriage :

These persons should select their life-companions from those born between 20th January and 18th February (Aquarius) as also from those born between 22nd September and 22nd October (Libra). These marriages prove happy ones, and children born in such wedlocks are daring, powerful and virtuous.

Family Happiness :

Some of the persons born between these dates will not be able to enjoy family happiness, because they are mostly living a wandering life owing to the inborn instinct for that kind of life. Moreover the instability of mind encourages that instinct. Some get chances to marry twice. And that is considered a factor impairing their married life. Some have possibilities of marrying two wives one after the other.

The number of sons born to such persons will be greater than that of daughters. They will have to witness the deaths of a few children in their infancy. In short, because of their dual nature, they will not be able to enjoy a happy and smooth domestic life.

Occupation :

Persons born during these dates shine out brightly as agents and brokers, because this line of occupation has a greater scope for change of work, and as this suits their temperament, they prove successful in that line of occupation.

They also shine out as Barristers, Judges,

Politicians, Accountants and Translators. They prefer to do mental labour rather than physical labour, and so in that field they are able to get both prestige as well as wealth. If Mercury is found to be occupying a prominent position in their horoscopes, then these persons can become Editors, Newspaper Correspondents, Authors and Press-keepers also.

They can be also good teachers. The desire to pass a smooth and simple life, and literary taste lead some persons to prefer this occupation.

The parents of the children born during these dates should try to impart good education to their children and divert them towards educational and literary activities.

Sometimes financial difficulties put these in awkward positions. But if they are a bit frugal and if they are careful about their purse from the beginning, there would not arise any financial difficulties for them.

Since these persons have a charming tongue, they become good businessmen or canvassers. They also gain ground in debates, and this proves to be a favourable occupation for them.

These persons can also become very good travelling agents, because they are always eager to probe into new things and acquire additional knowledge, and it proves to be a fitting line of occupation for them.

Many persons born between these dates have achieved fame in the literary world, and Lord Lytton, Sir Edwin Arnold, Sir Thomas Moore, Italian Poet Dante, Russian Author Pushkin, Thomas Hardy and Charles Kingsley were all born during the influence of this Zodiac.

Physical Health and Happiness:

Persons born under the influence of this Zodiac possess a strong and healthy physique. Some of them are thin and tall. Their eyes and faces are bright and brilliant. In spite of having a strong physique, they suffer from general debility, and they are habituated to move their hands and legs frequently.

Overburden of work and overanxiety are the chief reasons for this general debility. If they keep themselves to such work as they can do without being fatigued, and do not strain their nerves with unnecessary anxiety, they will not only keep good health, but they will not suffer from any nervous disorders, and they will be able to lead a happy life.

As Gemini has a predominance over Hands, Shoulders and Lungs, these people are frequently found suffering from diseases of those parts. They suffer from the diseases of neck and lungs, and at times they also suffer from nervous disorders.

For those born between these dates the Zodiacal limb is Lung; and they are likely to suffer from cold. Therefore they are advised to be careful not to catch cold during any illness and see that the lungs are not affected in any way. The parents of the children born during this period are specially advised to be careful about them.

The females are likely to suffer from Hysteria, Stomachache, etc. The children are likely to suffer from teeth-cutting, and some are likely to suffer from Asthma. In order that all these persons may be free from these diseases, they should find out a special diet which is suitable to them. They should keep away from unnecessary anxiety and agitation, for they lead them to such diseases.

Financially they will have a fair position, and they would not care much for it. They do not possess any tendency to amass wealth. Since they possess a literary taste, they are found to be believers in the motto of 'simple living and high thinking', and live accordingly. Of course, some will find it difficult at times to lead such a life, but these difficulties would be temporary, and if they are not disheartened and push on, the difficulties will be overpowered in no time.

In short, if these persons keep away from false anxieties, unnecessary stimulation, and do the necessary work with a cool head, they will be able to lead a very happy and healthy life.

Their Virtues and Defects:

Virtues:

They are active and industrious with firmness, ambitious, wishing only mental uplift, believing in the policy of doing two works at a time, sharp and quick-witted, honest in friendship and in financial matters, diligent, polite and loving.

Defects:

They are very imaginative, and possessing unstable mentality at all times; slightly vague and fearing, not certain when they will change the sides, hasty, erotic, and very talkative.

For Those Born Between

21st June and 21st July

CANCER

Zodiacal Sign ....Crab.
Zodiacal Lord ... ...Moon.
Zodiacal Limb ... ...Chest and Stomach.
Gem ... ...Onyx; Emerald.

Best Companions in Marriage... Those born between 21st April and 20th May, as also those born between 21st December and 19th January (Taurus and Capricornus).

Best Companions in Friendship and Business Those born between 21st December and 19th January (Capricornus).

Nature—Virtues and Ability

The persons born under the influence of this Zodiacal Sign are sentimental They feel offended in trifle matters, and hence feel great mental shocks. They cannot hear or see very dreadful events.

They are very fond of home and family, and to them it is their paradise. They are very much engrossed in them, and do not like to be away from it even for a moment.

Because of their fondness for the home and the family the persons born between these dates make ideal parents and husbands or wives. They keep away from family quarrels, and to them ' my family first ' is the rule.

They are diligent and hard-working, as also loving and joyful.

They have great faith in their personal abilities, and they do not rest till they have finished to their own satisfaction the work which they have undertaken. Moreover they think seriously about the pros and cons of the work, before they undertake it.

At the same time these persons are found sometimes of a conservative mind and of a bit miserly nature. But their miserliness is only for the benefit of others and themselves. During any work undertaken by them, they are hard-working and economical. They always think about the future, and are always engrossed in it.

It is interesting to note also the other characteristics of the persons born between these dates. Their Zodiacal sign is the Crab. And like a crab they prefer to do slow but steady work. Their memory is very sharp. They can remember many things. They can reproduce incidents which had happened years ago, with exact details. They do not like to spend money, and if opportunity comes they try to accumulate it.

Children born during these dates possess a hobby to collect things. Pieces of paper, pictures, toys, postal stamps and coins are a few amongst them. They also like to collect many thrown away articles.

They are very careful in matters relating to their profession or their domestic life. They take proper care of their important documents and their account books, and keep a strict eye that none of them is mislaid or lost. They are very regular and are exactly vigilant where their own interest is concerned. 'First the self and then the others' is their motto.

These persons like to show themselves before women, and do not lose a single opportunity of doing so. They also like to praise women; and children born between these dates prefer the company of their female relatives to that of male ones.

They are also idle and timid. They like to talk about big things, but as soon as some critical moments come they seek to save their skin. In short they lack the daring spirit needed to undertake any hazardous task.

They are bashful and vague in their talks. They cannot speak in public. They are always afraid of their prestige, and because of that characteristic they are always careful that their prestige in the public is not impaired. Suspicion, doubt, timidity, frugality and diligence are some of the characteristics of their nature.

Some of these persons are found to be very firm-minded and obstinate. Just as they are firm in their work, they are also firm in getting their will carried out. But at the same time they are peace-loving. They do not like to quarrel, and they always keep themselves away from disputes and dissensions.

They like to travel. They are always eager to see new aspects of the world, but they are not prepared to spend money or time for this purpose. Still they nourish a hope that it would be possible to make a trip round the world.

They are very arrogant and jealous. They do not wish that others should be better off than themselves, nor do they wish ill of them. They are also pleasure-loving.

In spite of all these defects they are industrious and kind. Their mind is always working on something. Some call them to be mechanic-minded. And because of this temperament they make their mark in any occupation.

Sometimes their originality shines out in a peculiar way, and as such they shine out as poets, authors or historians. But this happens very rarely.

They have respect and deference for old persons. They do not like to disobey them. They do not like to carry out any reforms nor do they accept any reforms, unless they are convinced that they will be benefited by them.

They are never ambitious except in matters relating to their occupation. Since they possess a special aptitude for business they sometimes make a good bargain in that.

Children born during these dates are weak. They often suffer from cold. It these children are kept in good company, and if they are given good exercise and nutritious food, their weakness is sure to be removed, and they are likely to be useful to society in the future.

Marriage :

Persons born between these dates should find their life-companions from those born between 21st April and 20th May (Taurus) as also from those born between 21st December and 19th January (Capricornus).

These persons should not make haste with regard to their marriage. They should have patience in these matters, but at the same time they should not remain inactive. And the result would be favourable for them. But if they make haste, they are likely to make a bad bargain.

Family Happiness :

As stated before these persons are fond of their home and family, and they take a deep interest in their domestic affairs. They will have happiness with regard to their wives and children, and in return they will be able to give happiness to them. But these persons will not have any happiness from their brothers. From this side they will have disappointments.

In after-life they will have good support from their sons. The sons having received good education will prove financially helpful, and will thus relieve the fathers from the burden of family maintenance.

These persons have chances of marrying more than once.

Occupation :

Persons born during the influence of this zodiacal sign become also good businessmen and artisans. Luck favours them especially in businesses of liquid articles. The business of oil or liquor proves very profitable to them. They also shine out in naval services.

If Mars is favourable to them, they can become good doctors and physicians. But the business of ghee and oil is the most favourable line for them.

If these persons get proper education, and if they make good progress in it, then due to their good intelligence they make good historians. It becomes very easy for them to remember incidents of a very long time.

They can also shine out as actors and actresses and also in conducting hotels and hair-cutting saloons.

Since most of the persons born between these dates do not get sufficient chances to develop their intelligence, they are debarred from becoming great poets, authors and painters. They possess an aptitude for knowledge and education, but since they have an inherent taste for mechanism, they shine out more in business or industries. In spite of these disabilities many of these persons make very good managers.

If these persons develop their will-power, and if they manage to have self-reliance, they can manage to do even the most difficult of works. In support of this statement the example of the life of 'Newspaper Magnate' Lord Northcliff is the most outstanding one. He had to encounter innumerable difficulties while running his newspapers. He had to fight against both the Government and his rivals. Still he was not disheartened, and he continued going his own way, and in the end he overcame them all and became the 'First King of the Newspaper World'.

Persons born during these dates are medium-statured. They are neither very tall nor very short. Their face is round and small, skin delicate and smooth, eyes blue or black. Physically they are not very strong.

They do not enjoy a very healthy life. Since Cancer has a predominance over the chest and stomach, these persons are found suffering from troubles of those parts every now and then. Especially stomach troubles are very common to them. They often suffer from cold, rheumatism, pthisis, and diseases of intestines as also from indigestion, constipation and flatulence.

The chief reason for deterioration in the health, is their idle and irregular mode of living. If they take proper exercise, and do some manual work, most of their diseases of the stomach will disappear. They avoid all such kind of labour which tends to help digestion, with the result that they become victims of the diseases like indigestion, and their health thus deteriorates.

It is advisable for them to take a very simple diet, and avoid certain foods which are detrimental to their health. The females are advised to be careful of their breasts, otherwise they are likely to suffer. They should keep away from bad company and also from sexual and stimulating diets, talks, reading and company. The parents are advised to keep a watching eye over their tender-aged daughters and see that they do not mix with bad company.

Persons born between these dates have to fear from water also. They are likely to suffer from accidents of water. They may be drowned or have to undergo similar sufferings. Therefore they are advised to keep away from water as much as possible. Apart from these they are not likely to suffer from other accidents.

These persons will enjoy a satisfactory financial position. They will earn at least enough to maintain their families properly. Moreover they will be able to save something and leave it for their successors. Since they are industrious by nature, they will stick to one trade only, and by spending all their energies in that trade, they will rise to prosperity.

Being self-respecting and honest, they will abide by the rule of 'honesty is the best policy', and this will naturally result in not having very big incomes. As such every pie saved by them, will be due to their frugality only.

These persons are advised to be very careful about their diet, and adhere to simple food and regular exercise. They should always remain joyful by keeping the anxieties away and should discard timidity. They should not accept such lines as would lead to excessive travelling and insufficient rest. And to be healthy and happy they should not allow idleness, selfishness and jealousy to come near themselves.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues

They are sensitive, possess feelings for the home and the family, love their children, have an aptitude for amassing money by slow, steady and honest methods of work. They have respect for the elders, and possess an active and industrious temperament.

Defects

Weak brain, fighting nature, timidity, idleness, selfishness, irresponsibility towards others, miserliness, obstinacy, arrogance, and carelessness regarding the diet, are some of their defects.

Sun enters in Leo on 22nd July and leaves it on 22nd August.

Persons born between these dates possess exceedingly magnetic personalities. They inspire others with awe by their abilities and attract them towards themselves. As friends they are loving and faithful. They possess kind and compassionate hearts. They cannot bear to see atrocities committed on dumb animals, and immediately resist them. Many of the persons born between these dates are found to be of a humanitarian temperament.

These persons are so full of compassion that they forget their own misfortunes and engage themselves in removing the misfortunes of others. On seeing a sick person they immediately feel compassionate towards him, and they care not for time or money in caring for him.

Their biggest magnetism is their kind and loving temperament, and owing to it they immediately capture others' hearts, and hence they are respected wherever they go. Deep knowledge, cleverness, and answers to the point are some of their qualifications, and due to this they are able to tide over any critical period. They have a way of their own for telling things. Even small matters are magnified by them attractively, and this in return attracts others towards them.

They prefer mercy to justice. They do not like to oppose anything; still if they have to adopt such an attitude, they are not easily thrown back. Owing to their kind temperament they easily forgive others. They have no vindictive nature.

Like a lion they are peaceful so long as they are calm, but once they are roused they become fiery and violent. They are not afraid of encountering any difficulty in order to fulfil the work undertaken by them, and they rest only when the work is completed.

Since they are practical-minded, and also possess a philosophical temperament, they are able to do some public good. They manage to direct others to a better way. They impress others through lectures, arguments and preaching. If these persons were to cultivate their philosophical temperament to perfection, they would acquire the capacity to bend others to their own will. It is said by great philosophers and astrologers that, if the persons who have imbibed the full effect of this zodiacal sign were to accept silence as their motto in life, they really become invincible against any kind of force.

Most of the persons born between these dates possess very strong hearts, and they are awe-inspiring. They are fearless and daring. They often achieve their desires through their own effort. They are practical both in thought and action. They do not like to build castles in the air. When they take anything to heart, they rest only after they have achieved it.

By nature these persons seem to possess wonderful inner knowledge, and hence they are conversant with a great many things. But they are never able to tell wherefrom they aqcuired this knowledge, or how they acquired it. But their presumptions are mostly correct. And they are mostly correct in their opinions also. That is why many persons desire to act according to the guidance given by these persons.

These persons are very frank and open-hearted, and sometimes due to this inherent nature they are enticed by other people. These persons are very ambitious and are leading figures among their own class or group. They try their best to come forward, and they take pleasure in that. If such persons are profused with respect, praise and congratulations, they return them with their over-generosity.

They are rulers by nature. They like to rule over others. Being noble-minded and straightforward, they rarely harm anyone. They are trustworthy and very honest. In public life they are respected and come immediately to the forefront.

Persons born between these dates possess some defects also. But if they try to overcome them, they can do so.

Some of the persons born between these dates are very cunning, deceitful, dishonest, and are in the habit of contracting debts. Some are very hot-tempered, hasty, peevish, and invite quarrels at every step. In short, they cannot refrain from quarrelling, the reason being that by nature they are very hot-tempered

These persons are very much fascinated by females. They are excessively passionate, and hence many of them are led to the path of debauchery. Due to this inherent weakness of nature they are apt to suffer calamities and hardships. Sometimes they form opinions about others without considering all the pros and cons. No doubt the opinions thus formed are correct in many instances; still such hasty opinions prove harmful to others about whom they are formed. It is therefore advisable that they form their opinions after considering all the pros and cons, so that they may not have to repent in future.

Some of these persons resort to falsehood. They dupe innocent persons and thereby gain their ends. They sometimes adopt the policy of divide and rule. To them the end justifies the means.

They are also very idle, and are prepared to devour anything which they are able to snatch without doing any labour for it. In short they prefer to have the things done without exerting themselves. They are always on the lookout for taking away the profits from the labours done by others. In spite of all these inherent defects, if they are forced to work or when they find that they have got to do it, they go through it in a thoroughgoing manner.

Many persons born between these dates are foppish and showy. They like to adorn themselves. They know well where to get all the things of luxury. They like to have good dishes to eat, and know where they can obtain such dishes. They love home as well as children. In the matter regarding children they do not like to follow others' instructions. They very much love their own children and take pretty good interest in their upbringing. Females born between these dates are loving, humble and modest in their behaviour, but if someone speaks ill of their children or injure them, or complain against them, they immediately lose their temper and sometimes they lose their balance of mind also.

Owing to the predominance of the Sun, the males born between these dates are very hot-tempered and very hasty in their actions, though the females born between these dates do not have these defects. And the main reason for this is the fact that the famales have to go to their husbands' house from a very young age, and there they have to remain under the control of the father in-law, the mother-in-law and the husband. Moreover as females they are shy by nature; hence they have to repress their inherent defects of hot temper and hastiness in action. They cannot act independently or become unrestrained like males. That is the reason why their defects are suppressed. But occasionally when they cross the extremes, they really become amazons.

Many of the females born between these dates are loving mothers and frugal wives. To them the home is the world, and they pass all their time in uplifting it.

Children born between these dates are very sensitive, full of anger and hot-tempered. It is for the parents to keep them in check from the very childhood. These children should be given education on proper lines, and they should be taught self-restraint. Otherwise there is every likelihood that they will become unrestrained, falling victims to diseases like paralysis, pthisis and insanity. In short the parents of such children have to bear a very great responsibility. It is their prime duty to see that these children move in well-chosen company, and that examples of illustrious persons are always placed before them. If they are slack in this duty, the children are apt to become vicious.

In order that their abilities may be properly developed and their inherent qualities may shine out, these children should always be kept engaged in such activities as are smooth-running, profitable, and give pleasure. They like to have continuous amusements, and if they are supplied with them, they develop tremendously. They are young cubs; and just as young cubs are domesticated with love, patience and perseverance, these children should also be treated in the same manner.

Persons born between these dates should keep away from greed, if they really want to benefit at all. Greed or avarice is their biggest enemy, and that brings in many other vices in its train.

They possess the strength and daring of lions, but out of sheer boastfulness if they do not make use of them, they themselves are responsible for getting disappointment in life. It is therefore advised that they should make full use of this strength and daring and have always very high thoughts. They should never allow depressing thoughts, fear, anxiety or melancholy near them, for these defects weaken the mind. Think always of triumph, see always sweetness in the family-bonds, consider adversity as happiness, and be sure you will come out in the end successful in the battle of life.

In conclusion, if the baser elements of these persons are properly kept in control, they are sure to turn out successful ones in all walks of life.

Marriage :

Persons born between these dates should seek as life companions from persons born between 21st March and 20th April (Aries), between 22nd November and 20th December (Sagittarius), and between 20th January and 18th February (Aquarius), which is more advisable.

It is really very important to see that these persons are very careful in making selection of their life-companions, otherwise they are sure to pass the rest of their lives in distress. But if they marry as suggested, they give birth to very strong and healthy progeny.

These persons should try to fix marriage in families of equal status and intelligence or a little inferior to them.

Family Happiness :

Persons born between these dates will have economic, domestic and worldly happiness. They will be respected among their kith and kin. The womenfolk will abide by their will and respect them. As head of the family, they will act with authority and respect. As they are capable managers, they will be able to give full satisfaction in family matters, acting judiciously and with discretion, though it is possible that some will have to court some dissatisfaction from their sons. They will have to live separately from them, and their married life may not prove as satisfactory as expected.

Occupation :

Since persons born during this period possess an independent nature, they are able to develop their abilities to perfection when they get chances to work independently and with authority. They shine out especially as government servants. They also prove capable as soldiers, political leaders, trustees, and as managers of landed estates and properties. Some rulers are also born during this period.

The occupations of jewellers and goldsmiths are more suitable to them. If they enter these occupations and work energetically, they are apt to make good progress.

If the planets are favourable to them, many persons born between these dates can shine out as good authors, poets and men of letters. Many English authors, e. g. Shelley, Dryden, Southey, Campbell, Tennyson, were born under the influence of these dates. Other writers like Sir Walter Scott, George Bernard Shaw, Alexander Dumas, Isaac Walton, De Quiney, etc. have become world famous, as they were born between these dates. If Venus is at a favourable place in the horoscope, they can become good musicians and dancers. It has been ascertained that many famous actors and actresses were born between these dates.

Life, Happiness and Health :

Persons born between these dates possess healthy and strong bodies. They have symmetrical bodies. Their shoulders are broad, their heads are round, and they have white faces. They have big, beautiful and pure eyes. They possess a strong and awe-inspiring voice.

But they have weak hearts, with the result that sometimes they are afflicted with the diseases of the heart. They can never bear heat. Many of them suffer from urinary diseases.

Since ribs, back and spinal cord are more under the zodiacal influence, these limbs are often afflicted with various ailments. They also suffer from weakness of the lungs, heart disease, chronic fevers, urinary and backbone ailments, as also liver troubles. These diseases arise if one remains in a depressed or morose condition for a very long time. They are therefore advised to be very careful in their diet and be regular about it and to live in fresh and pure air. Food should be properly chewed, and it should be clean and full of various vitamins and proteins necessary for the bodily requirements. Sufficient rest should also be taken. If these rules are observed properly, one is apt to maintain good health, and will be free from physical anxieties.

Persons reaching puberty should keep their lustful desires in check. If they do not keep in restraint, they are likely to be carried away to their own destruction. They are also advised not to be overdepressed or overanxious for anything.

Persons born between these dates live long, because they are by nature of a forbearing temperament, their sinews are strong and well-developed, and this helps much to keep the body in good health.

They are endowed with complete monetary happiness. Many persons born between these dates are found to be wealthy and rolling in riches. If they are not affected by Saturn and Jupiter, they have never to worry about financial matters. Their monetary troubles are solved always in the nick of time. Though they can earn a lot from literary work or as legal advisers, luck would favour them much in service only.

If these persons were to adopt a policy of speaking less, observing silence for some hours, and be free from all anxieties, they are apt to enjoy a very happy life. These are the golden rules for obtaining health, wealth and happiness.

Their Virtues and Defects:

Virtues:

They covet respect and fame, sympathise with others' difficulties; are bold and daring. They possess the wonderful ability of inner knowledge. They are more handsome spiritually. They are sweet and serious when addressing others. They are just and merciful, and they are devoid of vindictiveness. They are showy and foppish in appearance.

Defects:

They are arrogant, cunning, selfish, idle; ready to devour anything that comes to hand without any trouble, assuming uncalled for self-importance. They are also unreliable, contracting debts, hasty in action and thoughts, and are easy victims to female flirtations. Some of them are very adept in misappropriating others' properties.

Lucky Colours : Red and Green.

Lucky Months : Two months prove lucky to them: April and December.

Coalition Period

Leo enters on 22nd July and takes full six days to enter fully. Therefore those who are born between 22nd July and 28th July are treated as born during the coalition period of Cancer and Leo. Persons born during this coalition period are very daring and full of audacity, and act on their initiative under any circumstances. Though these persons are frank-hearted, others cannot fathom their hearts.

Females born during this coalition period are sharp-witted, and show open contempt to the rough temperament of their husbands. As mothers they are self-sacrificing and extremely loving. They are also very clever in house-management. Also those born during this coalition period possess very sharp memory.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

There is a proverb that persons born between these dates are 'born wise persons'.

In short the goddess of wisdom showers all her blessings on these persons.

These persons are pious, frank-hearted, clear and open-minded. Of course there may be exceptions here and there, but on the whole they are found possessing these virtues. They are sharp-witted and are able to grasp anything which comes across them. They are born philosophers, and as such prefer to work without being guided by others. Their method of working is quite unique. They are expert in finding new ways and means, and they fulfil the tasks undertaken according to those plans. In work they are exact and very careful, and as such they are able to perform the task undertaken without any hindrance or difficulty. In spite of this, they sometimes become very careless, and spoil the work due to excessive efficiency or carelessness.

These persons pick up training quickly and are able to pass through any kind of hard examinations. In business matters they are very clever, and shine out as good merchantmen. They are all-round experts, and take pride in their proficiency. They are alive in tasks undertaken, and they keep their eye on completing them to perfection.

They are by nature diligent, hard-working and faithful in their work. They show their true spirit when they have to perform only one kind of work and that within a specified time. They are also able to perform two or three tasks all at a time. They possess extraordinary sustaining abilities. They are stable-minded and are able to gauge the nature of work in a single bird's eye view. When they undertake some work they keep to it without wavering. Owing to this ability, they become expert proof-readers.

They are interested in music as well as in literature. They get special pleasure in examining anything with a long--range eye and finding ways and means to complete it to perfection. And they are found to be precise, straightforward and diligent in that.

Their skin is smooth and delicate. They possess a sensitive, somewhat peevish, and a little delicate nature.

They are loving and kind. Many persons take undue benefit of these virtues of theirs. Though some persons deceive them, their kindness is not devoid of sympathy, with the result that sometimes they utter some harsh words to others for their good.

It is not easy to deceive them. However, when they are deceived, they feel much depressed. They possess inherent understanding to find out as to what others need, and this extraordinary ability makes them good business-men and artisans. In short these dates are practically meant for businessmen.

These persons are experienced, hard-working, clever, and able to understand the pros and cons of everything at the very first glance. They are expert in making the best of the opportunity. They love peace and quiet, and hence whatever they wish to do, they do without making any tomtoming. They are regular and methodical in their work, though some of them are found to be somewhat narrow-minded.

They possess inherent philosophical know-ledge. If they develop properly their inherent hidden abilities, they are apt to become good philosophers and spiritualists.

It is desirable for these persons to estalish harmonious relations between mind and reason.

The harmonious union of these faculties will achieve greater exactness and cent per cent results will follow. As they despise quarrels, they maintain good relations all round.

Persons born between these dates are found to be very frugal. They are very precise in maintaining accounts. They enjoy the benefit of money thus accumulated in their after-life, when they have retired from active life.

They are regular and methodical. They are able to relieve others from distress. They achieve the best results through mental and spiritual powers.

They take pride in family reputation. Those who are uneducated, possess also the arrogance natural to those possessing riches. In order to hide their own misdeeds, they do not hesitate to attack others ferociously.

These persons possess one inherent quality, that of secrecy. Even at the cost of their lives they do not give out the secrets of their friends or their families. But this ability is found only in a selected few persons. They are able to maintain their bodily complexions for a very long period.

Females born between these dates love greatness, and they are clever in house-management, but they do not like that others should see them doing household work. In short they love to be considered as 'mistress', and this leads them to maintain an artificial status.

Children born between these dates are very delicate and lovable.

Marriage :

Persons born between these dates should contract marriage with persons between 19th February and 20th March (Pisces) and with those born between 21st April and 20th May (Taurus).

They should not be very hasty in their marriages. They should be very careful in selecting their life companions, and as far as possible they themselves should select their personality. Love-marriage prove beneficial to them.

Family Happiness :

Those born between these dates will pass a happy and quiet family life. They will love the family and home. But some will have their hopes frustrated as they will have no children, and will have mental worries due to that. The want of children will prove a great handicap in their family happiness. But one cannot triumph over this want as it is endowed by nature itself. Some will also have to bear the agony of seeing the untimely deaths of their children. And those with children will be very unhappy due to their unrestrained and turbulent nature.

These persons will have complete harmony from their kith and kin. Of course there may be minor quarrels or misunderstandings, but on the whole they will maintain harmonious relations.

They will have no chance to complain as regards their wives. The marital love-bonds would prove to be stronger and more harmonious in their old age than in youth.

Occupation :

Persons born during this period will have ample opportunities to be successful in their respective occupations. Cleverness and a methodicial system of working would bring them into limelight in any occupation they enter. They will be able to make profitable bargains by joining big corporations and business associations. They are apt to shine out as managers of big companies, agents, selling agents or commission agents. In provision stores or chemical stores or, if they are well trained, in printing and publishing lines or as authors they are destined to shine out in a very short time, and make a name in these.

They make good photographers. They possess an artistic temperament—it may be said that they have natural leanings towards art—they shine out in this branch also.

Some make good progress in service, instead of in any business. To be precise, if they take up jobs in Provision Stores or in Chemists and Druggists' establishments or as Journalists or as Secretaries, they are apt to shine out in those lines. They make good progress in any line they join due to their diligence and methodical system of working.

They also shine out as politicians and diplomats. Many politicians are born between these dates. Sir Edward Marshall Hall, Lord Oxford and Asquith, and Sir Robert Walpole were born between these dates, and they became world-famous politicians.

These dates have given to the world some very well-known poets and men of letters. The famous author Lord Chesterfield, the well-known lexicographer Dr. Samuel Johnson, and the German Poet Goethe were born between these dates.

Proof-reading, music, medicine, police, dramaturgy, etc. prove very suitable lines of occupation for persons born between these dates. Since their zodiacal lord is Mercury, the clerical line proves very suitable to them. Owing to this fact clerks, secretaries, accountants, etc. are found to be born during this period.

Life-Happiness and Health :

Persons born between these dates are of mid-height, have oval-shaped faces and a sweet voice, and are of intelligent appearances.

They maintain very good health. When they take to bed, it is only because of their irregular habits.

There is another cause which also is responsible for their illness. Even when they are completely healthy, they are always under the false impression that they are suffering from something, and in order to get relieved of this false impression they immediately go to doctors for trivial ailments. Due to this, if you were to examine the houses of such persons, you would find cupboards full of medicines and patent pharmaceutical preparations.

It is advisable for them to get rid of the dependence on medicine, and allow nature to cure them. In fact these medicines, instead of making them healthy, make them more sickly. Moreover they should leave off taking hot drinks and stimulants. These spoil the digestive organs, and give rise to many ailments. For them there is only one medicine, and that is solitude. The also love solitude; and hence whenever they do not feel well, they should immediately repair to a solitary place.

These persons are also advised to look after their digestive system. They should always partake easily digestible food, and should chew it properly before swallowing it. Anxiety, haste, etc. are harmful to the digestive system. Therefore they are advised to discard them for their ultimate good. A little carelessness about food would invite indigestion, stomach-ache, and many other diseases of the digestive system and also of the nervous system. They are therefore advised to take regular exercise, resort to naturopathy, take only simple and absolutely necessary diet, and they will be assured of perfect health throughout their life.

From a pecuniary point of view these persons are considered to be well-to-do and rich among their class. And since many of them are occupied in business, they earn a good deal of money. They are favoured by riches. But others who have not taken to the business line, shine out in the field of literature, and do not care for money. In short, from all the periods mentioned in this book those born during this particular period are found to be rich and happy. Of course, if other stars are not favourable, they are apt to lose all the above-mentioned favours and pass a very miserable life. In short, those who have also other stars favourable to them, enjoy all the benefits mentioned above.

If Mars is not unfavourable at the time of birth, these persons are saved from accidents. The only disappointment in life they encounter is as regards progeny about which they are not happy. Otherwise generally speaking they will enjoy a quiet and smooth life. Of course they will come across a few small or big difficulties, but they will be able to overcome them easily. They should never think of disappointment in life, should maintain high hopes and courage, should face bravely sickness, poverty and distress, and bear them patiently. And they would positively come out triumphant in the battle of life by leading a regular and unselfish life.

Their Virtues and Defects:

Virtues

They are of an unquestionable character, hard-working, diligent and wise. Their faithfulness and their capacity to suffer are of a very high order. They are very mild and loving towards everything living. They try to master every art. They have a passion for travelling, for mastering industries and crafts, and for gaining spiritual knowledge.

Defects

They are selfish, arrogant, and self-willed. Sometimes they speak and write such words as harm others. At such times they forget the good qualities of those persons. They are showy, sharp-tongued, and at times double-cross their own friends.

Sun enters in Libra on 22nd September and leaves it on 22nd October.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born between these dates are by temperament hard-working, ambitious, generous, and possess inherent philosophical knowledge. Owing to their diligence they attain success in all the tasks they undertake. Moreover they try to find out what kind of task is moıe profitable to them, and having thus selected it, they do not rest till the same is finished. They are daring and courageous. They possess extraordinary strength to bear losses and distresses, and also unflinching and firm self-confidence. They select their own coworkers for tasks they have willingly undertaken. In trying to attain riches, they sometimes make use of their presumptions. Sometimes they utilize the inherent hidden secret intelligence, and owing to this many of them are found to be share-brokers, speculators, diplomats, and also gamblers and lewd persons. They are gentle and loving. They despise any act of cruelty or violence. They feel great pains if somebody addresses them very harsh words and treat them cruelly.

They are very precise and firm in their actions. Their certain special qualties, viz. love for justice and equality, and their managing capacity make them shine out among others. They love justice and strict discipline. They also love music, art and beauty. It is noteworthy that they are very clean and symmetrical, and are handsome. The females too are beautiful and virtuous. They like to have good things, new clothes and showiness, and these qualities make them at times foppish and spendthrift. But in later life when they understand the real situation, they lead a better life. In spite of this they maintain cleanliness.

As stated before these persons are very handsome. They attract others, especially females, towards themselves. In gambling and speculation they sometimes become very rash, and in the same manner while accomplishing their aims and achievements they become very mannerless and audacious. They always seek new forms of pleasure.

They are not afraid of losses or pains, because they are energetic, hopeful and courageous. They know well how to ward off losses, and act with redoubled zeal and vigour. They have one great drawback, that of contracting debts without at all considering whether they possess the means or the ability to repay them. If they are able to repay them, it is well and good; but if they cannot pay, they do not at all try to return the amount borrowed; not only this but if someone makes a demand for repayment, they sometimes lose their temper. They expect the lender to become generous and write off the amount. In fact, however, they are not dishonest by nature. Really speaking they are the most justice-loving persons.

Another great drawback in them is that they are fatalists, and because of this they often undergo heavy losses. They have great confidence in astrology and other occult sciences, and every now and then they try to probe into them, but only a few of them are successful in it. Really speaking if these persons were to follow these sciences faithfully and diligently, they would make good progress in them and achieve fame without doubt.

These persons possess an abundance of thoughts relating to the occult. They are full of knowledge, and are able to understand the minor secrets of these, but they are unable to explain how they attained it. They possess wonderful strength to attain secret occult powers and possess inner secret knowledge. Since they possess such extraordinary abilities, if they become good devotees and religious-minded, they are apt to gain wonderful achievement.

They are also critical, fault-finding, and ridiculing others; and owing to this temperament their conjugal life is sometimes threatened with discord. It comes in the way of their finding a suitable life-companion, and there arises the possibility of their married life falling to pieces. They possess very strong sentiments and firm thoughts. Even the most trifling matter stings them to the core. They are just, gentle and humble. In friendship they are faithful and loving. They possess very good mimicking abilities, and hence they make good actors and actresses. Due to their generous and loving temperament they are able to get many kinds of friends, many of whom lead them astray. And if they do not revert from that path in time, they are sure to face disappointment in life, and their whole outlook on life is changed. It is therefore advisable for them to be very careful in selecting their friends.

These persons show extraordinary bravery in performing great deeds, but when they find their own children, relatives or friends in distress they become non-plussed.

As they possess foresight and imagination, they make solid calculations in races, speculation, etc.; and if they work in them with due restraint, they are sure to make good profit out of them. But if they become greedy and lose restraint, and become addicted to these, they are apt to lose in the end. They lose prestige, and their whole career is ruined. Therefore if they wish to make money out of these lines, they must leave off their gambling temperament.

Females born between these dates are very beautiful and attractive. They are not so reckless as the males. But in money matters they are more careless. They despise to keep accounts and pay the bills. In short, they do not at all like to be careful about money-matters. The females like the males prefer to be foppish, coquettish, and like to put on showy and colourful dresses.

Marriage :

Persons born between these dates should select their life companions from the persons born between 21st April and 20th May (Taurus), and those born between 21st May and 20th June (Gemini). These unions prove to be very happy, and have beautiful and healthy progeny.

Family Happiness :

Persons born between these dates are endowed with good family happiness. If they do not have unfavourable stars at the time of their birth, they pass a very happy domestic life. Since they prefer to have harmony and happiness, they maintain their household affairs in such a smooth manner that there is hardly ever any cause for complaint. Some of the persons born between these dates will have to witness untimely deaths of their children. These calamities will affect them very much, and they will begin to have a kind of indifference towards worldly affairs. Some of these persons, in their young age, will be forced by their parents to accept a particular kind of occupation or service, and they will have to accept them against their own will. This will make them dissatisfied for a certain period, but after that they will be able to enter the occupation or service of their own choice, and they will become contented.

Occupation :

Persons born during this period achieve success in practically all kinds of occupations. As they have greater attraction towards art-beauty, they are able to achieve greater success and fame as actors or actresses, painters, musicians, authors, poets or artists.

We find many notable poets. authors and singers born during this period. Instead of independent proprietors of business, they become more successful as servants or partners, because in case of independent occupations they sometimes fail due to their peculiar temperament. Due to their sane judgment, serene nature, and the capacity to take quick decisions, they shine out as big directors or military officers. Julius Caesar, Emperor Augustus, Lord Robert Clive, Admiral Nelson and Marshal Foch were born during this period.

We also find many detective officers and criminal investigators born between these dates. Persons born under the influence of Libra are expert in performing tasks involving great mental strain. Many of them are attracted towards such occupations, and make great progress in these.

Since many persons born between these dates possess a gambling temperament, they look with greater interest towards gambling, races and speculation; but in the end these very vices lead them to ruin. If they leave off this vice, they have a bright future before them. They should also leave off the drinking habit.

Life-Happiness and Health:

Persons born between these dates are tall, lean, and sturdy. They have oval-shaped faces. While speaking they speak very fast, and the voice becomes very shrill. Their eyes are comely and regular. They move very rhythmically. They lead a very regular life and are very diligent.

Since pelvis, rectum and the back are their zodiacal limbs, they are apt to suffer from the diseases of these limbs. They are more likely to suffer from the diseases of pelvis and of the urinary system. They may also suffer from diabetes, as also diseases of skin and blood. But if they are careful about their diet, and take sugar and other sweet things with restraint, they will not suffer much. They should drink water only after it is well-filtered.

If they really want to be happy, they should avoid unnecessary anxiety and mental depression. They should keep their body and mind in joyful mood, and remain contented in whatever position they are placed. This is the golden rule for maintaining the best of health.

These persons prefer to remain clean and free. They look with disgust on any work involving difficult and dirty tasks. This quality of their nature is very good for their health.

Economically they will be on the average. They will maintain their status, and will remain free from pecuniary anxieties. In social circles they will maintain economic independence. They will earn good money in service or occupation, and will pass their lives happily.

Some of these persons are likely to get some property from their father-in-laws, as also they are likely to get good amount as dowry. Generally speaking they are lucky and have more faith in luck than in labour.

They are endowed fully with family happiness. They are happy in respect of wife and husband, father and mother, and kith and kin. They remain aloof from family quarrels, and if accidentally they are involved in them they cleverly pacify them, and come out unscathed. As they are peace-loving, they never like such quarrels. If the stars are favourable to them at their time of birth, they pass a happy and smooth life. Some of them will have to witness the untimely and sad deaths of their young sons. They will feel great shocks and will feel much distressed. At such times they are advised to remain calm, and should never take a hasty step, otherwise they are likely to suffer more. They are advised to speak less, keep calm, take nutritive and simple diet, remain in pure and clean air, and have faith in God. These are the means to make their lives simple and exalted. It is for their good to make the best of it. When they become more spiritual-minded, and take less interest in worldly affairs, then alone their equilibrium is maintained, and at such times they pay great attention to their work.

Their Virtues and Defects

Virtues

They are generous, kind, humble, working with a purpose, believing in luck, self-reliant, having the strength to bear distress, and precise in nature. They love to wear clean garments.. They have a literary bent of mind and a sense of justice.

Defects

They are talkative, sometimes generous beyond limits, idle, and careless. They are also full of lust and passion and of lascivious character, possess limitless faith in luck, and are critical and mirthful.

Zodiacal Signs of similar elements : Cancer and Pisces.

The Sun enters in Scorpio 23rd October and leaves it on 21st November.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born between these dates are plain-speaking and courageous. They do not hesitate to tell home-truths.

Two sorts of persons are born during these dates—those having high thoughts, and those having mean thoughts. They possess power, strength and great capacity for work. But it all depends on how these abilities are diverted. If these abilities are diverted to the right direction, they positively become high-thinking persons. Though these persons possess inborn nature and abilities of the same type, still as there is diversion in method of working, they come out as two diverse sorts of persons. This diversion finally develops their character, nature and habits. This is a noteworthy feature of persons born between these dates.

As stated above, though these persons possess similar abilities, as they possess different methods of working, they make use of their abilities in different ways. For example, a commander leading an army and a robber leading a dacoity, work with similar powers and abilities; only their fields of work are different.

Generally persons with base motives are born between these dates. If they do not keep a restraint on their motives and temperament, they become reckless, and losing the balance of their reasoning faculty, commit the most heinous deeds. These persons owing to their tyrannical temperament harass others, and taking delight in mean, sinful and vindictive acts, prove a nuisance to others. But those who keep a restraint on their reasoning faculty and temperament, make a success in life. Especially their spiritual abilities are developed to a good extent, and they make a good progress in them. In some cases they become ardent ascetics and remain completely absorbed in praying.

Those born during this period who keep a restraint over their temperament and walk along the path of righteousness, possess a clear and high reasoning faculty and do not tolerate injustice. Their criticism is not devoid of constructive suggestions. They are unique in fault-finding. Their mental faculties are very active in finding out others' faults, and when one has committed a mistake, they can detect it more easily than others. They have a peculiarity of their own regarding the mode of talking and manners. In certain cases they are found to be very humble and loving.

As stated before they possess a broad mental faculty, and when they undertake anything they finish it against heavy odds. They are of a very firm temperament. They prefer to keep their deeds in secret, and that to such an extent that they do not speak frankly before those whom they regard as their superiors and benefactors. They are also arrogant, suspicious and untruthful. This kind of temperament is in both—high and low—sorts of persons.

Persons born between these dates are of a vindictive nature, possessing a sharp tongue and reserved in certain acts. Their mode of speaking and working is full of venom like the stings of a poisonous scorpion. At times they are so idle that they do not finish even their routine work. They order and direct others, but they themselves do not do anything. In friendship too, they are found to be very selfish They maintain friendship so long as it proves profitable to them. But as soon as it begins to be unprofitable they not only discard it, but even become enemies.

As husbands or wives these persons have proved to be of a very suspicious temperament. When this temperament reaches the extreme, their marital relations are endangered and lead to disastrous results. It is therefore advisable for them to avoid jealousy, suspicion and insanity.

These persons are very brainy. In matters of management and in writing business, they prove superior to others. They possess ample magnetism of attraction. They impress others as good speakers. Owing to their awe-inspiring personalities they are able to make good friends. They possess a good descriptive faculty. Their language is simple and smooth. While describing a thing or event they present a complete picture. Due to this most of the writers born between these dates possess a peculiar descriptive faculty.

The parents of children born during this period are advised to be very careful about their offspring. The latter should be trained not with threats, but with love. Love for education should be created in them by persuasion, otherwise there is every likelihood of their going astray. If these persons are trained with threats and punishment, then instead of being reformed they are likely to be spoiled, and in the long run they become reckless fellows. Most of the boys who have run away from their parents or are living separately are found to have been born during this period.

In money matters these persons are very happy but lack generosity. They amass money in their youth, and make the best use of it in their old age. They despise poverty.

Marriage:

Persons born between these dates should seek their life companions from those born between 21st April and 20th May (Taurus) as also from those born between 22nd September and 22nd October (Libra).

Family Happiness:

If the husband and wife were to have real love towards each other, they will pass their life very happily. They will be happy in respect of their offspring. Sons would be obedient and wise and give happiness to their parents. The husband should never be jealous of his wife and vice versa. If they ever suspect each other they would never be happy. The couple should always keep harmony in their marital affairs, have faith in each other, and should never keep anything hidden from each other. These are some of the main rules to be always kept before them by the persons born between these dates. These persons will not have good relations with their elder as well as younger brothers.

Occupation :

Persons born between these dates are apt to make names for themselves as heads of business firms, and the main reason for this is their active management and method of working. In times of difficulty, they rise to the occasion with unique calm. Apart from this, they shine out as physicians, surgeons and mechanical engineers. They possess an inherent tendency towards chemistry, hence as chemists and druggists as well as dyers they become very successful. They love to be respected and covet honours and titles as well as medals. This leads them to join government services and to try for higher posts.

If they get a proper training, they make successful detectives also. Since they are endowed with the habit of probing into a subject very minutely, this occupation gives them very good chances to shine out. Critics and cartoonists are found to have been born between these dates. They shine out as scientists also. The famous inventor Edison was born during this period. We find many writers, critics, journalists and public speakers born between these dates.

Life-Happiness and Health :

Persons born between these dates are dark-skinned. Physically they are strong and possess fairly good health. They have broad and slightly square faces. They mostly suffer from venereal diseases. Sometimes they suffer from heart disease also. A simple and smooth mode of life is very important for them. If they keep restraint on their passions and live a moderate life, they will have no complaint as regards their health.

Their pecuniary condition is always far from satisfactory. Every now and then they are confronted with economic difficulties, and sometimes they are handicapped to such an extent that only herculean efforts bring them out. But they themselves are responsible for these difficulties. They themselves invite them. Many of these persons do not like a foppish life, and prefer to live a simple life, whereas there are also some who live a reckless life and thus are ruined completely. Such persons, when they are involved in economic troubles, become burdensome to others, and put up permanently with them. They like to lead a life of a parasite. They hate work and avoid exertion. Due to this sort of behaviour their family life becomes full of difficulties, quarrels and misunderstandings. When they are fully tired of these, they are diverted towards a religious mode of life, and then only they become happy.

Some of these persons, who lead a moderate life, are able to maintain their domestic life satisfactorily to a certain extent. Outwardly they may not look happy, but inwardly they feel happy, and remain pleased in whatever circumstances they are placed for the time being. To some of the persons born during this period, their sons prove helpmates in their after-life, and they are relieved of more than half their anxieties.

They will meet with small accidents. In childhood the accidents of falling down will be frequent. They should be careful of fire, nor should they play carelessly with arms. If they will keep their temperaments in control, do not act hastily and be not stimulated unnecessarily, they will ward off many accidents.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues

They are just, critical, and garrulous. They are awe-inspiring and possess extraordinary personalities, and owing to this they awe others. In love they are secretive and faithful. They are more inclined towards religious matters. As they are fighters, they shine out as commanders and captains.

Defects

They are impatient, lustful and greedy. When irritated they are not pacified easily. They are wrathful, jealous, and suspicious. In matters of friendship sometimes they are found to be distrustful and mean-minded. As enemies they are very cruel.

Coalition Period

Scorpio enters on 23rd October, and it takes full six days to enter completely. Therefore the period from 23rd October to 29th October is considered as the coalition period of Libra and Scorpio. Persons born during this coalition period are inventors of new thoughts and new modes and manners. They possess independent judgment, are obstinate, and respect their own status. They can easily make their way out of difficulties, and are very clever in reprimanding others.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born between these dates, though soft-hearted, are daring, courageous, firm, and very precise. They have an ambition to progress in every field of life. They hope to achieve the topmost job. Owing to this sort of temperament they poke their nose in every matter, and achieve the desired success in many fields. They are clever and speedy in action When they decide to do a thing they do not rest till they have completed it. But sometimes, by acting in this manner, they spoil the work and unnecessarily bear the loss.

These persons are precise and expert in achieving the expected results, and as such others think that they seem to possess the power to know the future. When they work on their own initiative, they hardly fail; but when they allow others to guide them, they fail terribly.

These persons like to mind their own business, and do not interfere in others' matters. They dislike to sit idle. They are always working. While in work they go into its details minutely and examine it from the beginning to the end.

These persons are very broad-minded. They can keep others' secrets very safe. Still they do not work in privacy. Whatever they do, they do openly. They like to speak out the home truths. They are frank, honest and open-hearted, and hence they make good friends. They love truth and justice.

As they are honest and firm, they impress others. They create such an atmosphere around them that whoever enters it is awed by its splendour. Even if one does not agree with what they say, it penetrates the hearer's heart.

Even as enemies these persons are generous and just. As they are gentle and soft-hearted they hesitate to adopt violent or cruel measures. They repent for inflicting losses on others during a moment of haste, and make a resolve not to repeat it.

They feel distressed when they see others in difficulty. They decide to help them, and rest only after they have carried out their resolve. Sometimes others make a bad use of their generosity and softness. When this happens frequently, they resolve not to help others.

If they wish, they lead a moral life by keeping their passions in check. As they are also moderate, simple, and straightforward, they maintain good health. They prefer to pass their days in a happy domestic circle.

As stated before these persons make speedy decisions. Their brain works very fast, and sometimes they commit terrible mistakes in that. They are, however, always prepared to acknowledge their errors, and take pride in that.

In outward appearance they are attractive. Their eyes are lustrous with the result that they make the desired impression on others. They are mirthful, fearless and daring. In fulfilling their duties they are undaunted. Persons born between these dates are tall, lean, and are not very talkative. They are calm and quick-witted. Those who are very active are more strong and heavy.

Females born between these dates are sweet-tempered and obedient. They manage the house very efficiently. As wives and mothers they shine out superbly. They love children and animals immensely. They are firm, loving, gentle, generous and wise. They are always ready to advise their husbands in the proper way. They are both servants and counsellors.

They are found to be very particular about their chastity and have unflinching faithfulness towards their husbands.

Children born during this period are very straightforward, innocent and pure-hearted. It is a sin to cheat or deceive them. Since they are of a diligent temperament, they are always busy with something or other. The parents should entrust them with only such work as they prefer to do. They are very sensitive, and feel much shocked in even trifling matters; hence they should be treated with great care. They should be kept in good company, their wishes should be fulfilled, and they should be given such tasks as would enlighten their intelligence.

If these persons get good higher education, they make great philosophers. We find great saints and ascetics born between these dates. These persons lack in self-confidence. They always hang between success and failure, with the result that they cannot get fully engrossed in their work. In religious matters they are sometimes found practising hypocrisy, and it looks as if they care more for applause and fame than for real work.

These persons never become old. They are always seen laughing and cheerful. They are active and talkative, and are never moody or depressed. Sometimes they make a mountain of a molehill, and become very much excited. This is one of their greatest drawbacks. They should check their wrath and keep a restraint on their speech. Of course all of them do not have these defects, still it is advisable for them to keep wrath and tongue under control. It has been stated before that they are generous as enemies, still they do not forget the insults suffered, and when opportunity occurs they pay back in the same coin. It is advisable for them to develop the virtue of forgiveness; otherwise their progress is likely to be hampered. If they are not broad-minded, then as officials they prove very tyrannical towards their subordinates.

Marriage :

Persons born between these dates should choose their life companions from those born between 21st March and 20th April (Aries) as also those born between 22nd July and 21st August (Leo). These marriages prove very happy and prosperous.

Family Happiness :

They enjoy good family happiness. With an increase in the members of the family, their responsibilities also increase, and they become very rigid in executing them. They hate family quarrels. They prefer to have peace and harmony, and in order to attain these they sometimes sacrifice their own money and labour.

Occupation :

They become successful in any occupation. They never stick to only one occupation, but get engaged in many occupations simultaneously; and what is more amazing, they are successful in all of them. Therefore these persons should never be forced to take up any particular line, but should be allowed to choose any line of their own choice. Generally they are more inclined towards religious acts, and therefore become good preachers, speakers and religious leaders The next best line for them is law. They are apt to shine out as pleaders and bar-at-laws. If they are robust and healthy, then police or military service will also prove suitable to them. Because of their inherent attraction towards these lines they will have ample opportunities to make a name in them, and they may rise to the position of Inspector General or Military General. In business they shine out as single proprietors, or as partners also. Persons of a hiqher calibre proceed in every work in a straight line like their zodiacal sign, the bow, and fulfil their duties faithfully and honestly. They are not interested in trifling or unimportant tasks. They do not even look towards them. They prefer only those occupations which give maximum of profit. They get good opportunities in the motion picture field. We find many story-writers and artistes born between these dates. Pleaders, doctors, merchants, agents and secretaries are found mostly born between these dates. These are very opportune fields for them, and they make a good harvest from these occupations.

Life-Happiness and Health :

Persons born between these dates possess a good physique and are handsome. Even though they are not fat, they are very strong and daring. In spite, however, of a firm physique, they are every now and then suffering from various ailments. They mostly suffer from lung-diseases, rheumatism and digestive disorders If they suffer from chest-diseases and many anxieties, and if they are under the influence of the Sun at that time, they are likely to contact tuberculosis. They are advised not to overwork themselves, if they really desire to keep good health. Cheerfulness, regularity of work, and peace of mind are the main essentials for these persons. Horse riding, swimming and other exercises are advisable and beneficial for them. In money matters they are found to be very calculating. They know how to save money, but they are not mean or miserly. They have a very good bank account, because they believe in the maxim of providing for the future. One hardly finds a person born during Sagittarius without money. Their motto in life is industry and amassing of wealth.

Their Virtues and Defects:

Virtues:

They are always progressing, industrious, diligent, working to the minute details, trustful, apt in the art of saving money, optimist and cheerful. They are faithful towards their friends, and are real friends in need. They are also honest, determined and religious.

Defects:

Lacking self-confidence, hesitating, rude, hypocrite in religious matters, running after praises and applauses, and sometimes parasitical, they are wrathful, possess a sharp tongue and are vindictive.

Best Companions in Occupation and Friendship...Those born between 21st April and 20th May, as also those born between 22nd August and 21st September and between 22nd September and 22nd October (Taurus, Virgo and Libra).

Zodiacal Signs of similar elements : Taurus and Virgo.

The Sun enters in Capricornus on 21st December and leaves it on 19th January.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born between these dates are born during the influence of Saturn. The zodiacal sign of Capricornus is Goat. This animal though unintelligent is industrious, and prefers to climb high on mountains. It likes to roam among hills and summits.

These persons are very obstinate. In spite of this they are diligent, hard-working, zealous, and given to service. They are thoughtful, active and determined, and hence they never rest till they have finished the work they have undertaken. They are great thinkers and philosophers, but their success of life consists of practicability.

They are very ambitious. These ambitions are so high-placed that without considering their own limitations or failures, they begin to work with overzeal. In spite of repeated failures and difficulties arising in their way, they nurse the ideas arising in their brains. Even an ordinary man, born during this period, wishes to become a millionaire. He is always planning and devising to become a millionaire. An ordinary soldier or a servant would be dreaming to become a great commander or a business magnate. Not only this, they always try and devise means to reach the end —to realise their dreams, but when these plans are actually put into practice, they meet with failure—desired ends are never achieved. They are very zealous and optimistic and consider themselves as great leaders or commanders.

Some of the persons born between these dates are born leaders. They are born to become leaders. They dislike to become subordinates. Slowly and steadily they rise step by step and finally reach the top. By patience and perseverance they overcome the greatest of difficulties. They are arrogant, greedy, devising great plans, miserly, diligent, laggard, cautious, independent, double-crossing, and possessing great self-confidence. They also are sometimes frank and pure-hearted. Though it is true that these persons are proud, independent, and full of high thoughts, still their pride does not end in arrogance. They become arrogant only in matters of discipline and self-respect. It is possible that they may not be able to show skill in their performance, yet they are really efficient in devising and planning it. They mostly work behind the screen and remain zealous so long as they meet with success, but as soon as they encounter failure, their zeal cools down. In some of these persons of high thinking we see a fine combination of love, happiness and beauty, and they possess inherent powers of foretelling. They possess a special aptitude for occult sciences, and they are very eager to probe their secrets. They are always eager and ready to do some public service, to do something good to the public in general, and they take pleasure in them. They have also a liking for study and for literature, and they make good progress in these directions. They are well-respected in the student world. As they are frank in their talks and simple, they attract others. Since they possess independent personalities they are self-confident and of firm determination. As such they can achieve the desired triumph if they so wish.

But if these persons are led astray, if they do not get good company and advice, then there is every possibility that instead of developing the foregoing virtues, they are likely to develop many defects, because the development of baser instincts positively leads one to degradation to such an extent that he or she does not hesitate to commit the meanest of acts. They become cruel, vindictive, and get pleasure out of others' distress. But when they are confronted with failures, they become disappointed and sad, and at that time life becomes a burden to them and they become quite reckless. If this happens in their young age, they go to the length of committing even suicide. The parents of the sons born during this period should be very careful about them.

Persons born during this period are often selfish and reserved, and do not mix in any company. They are not broad-minded, and fail in getting others' confidence.

They become great thinkers, orators and teachers. They know how to please others, and do continuous work without taking any rest. They are loving, trustful and generous. They never break the friendship once fomed, but sometimes too much friendship leads to many awkward situations.

It is no use trying to change the psychology of the persons born between these dates, because they are extremely obstinate. Moreover they are faithful and trustworthy. They understand perfectly well wherein lie the benefits and losses for their masters. They never quarrel or fight with anybody. They prefer to remain absorbed in their own work, and they finish the work undertaken, however difficult it may be.

In financial transactions and other matters, these persons are very honest and regular, but as they lack foresight and as they are not broad-minded, they sometimes suffer very heavy losses. In spite of this, these persons are very trustworthy. They pay their debts to the last farthing, and never think of misappropriating others' money.

They manage to keep the secrets of others. They are likely to get inheritances. They save money and do not misuse it.

Females born between these dates are beautiful, clever, wise, frugal, and efficient household managers. However, they are endowed with two defects: they are full of selfishness and suspicion. Due to these defects they speak without any restraint and sometimes suffer heavily for that.

Looking from all sides these persons are honest and generous. They progress independently. Though the measure of their progress is very slow, they do not fall back and move forward slowly and steadily.

Marriage :

If the persons born between these dates desire to make their married life happy and smooth, they should marry after the age of 25 only. And they should seek their life companions from those born between 21st June and 21st July (Cancer) as also from those born between 22nd August and 21st September (Virgo). If the marriage takes place with persons born during these periods, their marriage proves happy and smooth. They are therefore advised to seek their life companions from only the persons born during these periods.

Family Happiness :

These persons are not endowed with proper family happiness. They will have to encounter worldly difficulties and family quarrels every now and then, and thus are forced to spend all their energies and money in quelling them. Because of their unsteady mentality, spiritual mind and love for the occult, they themselves give rise to many family quarrels. Due to this kind of temperament they become careless towards home and family, with the result that they are neither able to reach the spiritual heights nor are they able to create a household.

Occupation :

Since they are more inclined towards religious matters, they make good preachers, ascetics, priests and such other types. Apart from these, they prove efficient government and similar administrative officers. Beginning merely as ordinary clerks, they due to their own abilities reach the highest post in the department. They can make good profits from real estate and as building contractors. Also they shine out as scientific inventors, research scholars and writers. In short, persons born between these dates become successful in steady jobs and rise to the topmost positions.

They have a special liking for cinema, music, dancing, drawing, embroidery, etc. The males take great interest in political, legal and constitutional matters. They become artisans, chemists and research scholars, and shine in their own respective lines. Some of the best orators of England like Sheridan and Gladstone were born during this period.

Females born between these dates are expert in household management and are very industrious. They understand their duties perfectly well. They love their husbands, children and homes, and give full satisfaction to them all. They are by nature loving and kind. As such they make a name if they take up the nursing profession

These persons are advised to be careful in their tasks, and work with a firm determination.

Life-Happiness and Health:

These persons are dwarfish in stature, dark-skinned, black-haired, and possess beautiful and attractive eyes. Generally they have a strong constitution, and in after-life it becomes even stronger.

They rely more on their self-confidence than on luck. Though theywill reach a long age, they are advised to be specially careful about their lungs, if they really want to live long. Open air and a normal way of living would prove much beneficial to them. They should be careful in winter. They should not overwork, because it gives rise to indigestion, melancholia, etc. It is likely that they may suffer every now and then from diseases of the knee, skin, blood and also rheumatism. The diet should be moderate and digestible, otherwise the stomach will become disorderly and health will be endangered. They should keep away from disappointment and depression as these are injurious to health. They should always remain cheerful, keep good company, and engage in such tasks as would keep their minds busy and full of joy. These persons have to bear in mind that their illness is connected more with mental causes than physical ones. Therefore, if the mind is healthy, there is no chance of illness.

They have a bright pecuniary and economic future before them, but they cannot expect all their wishes to be fulfilled. They should never dream of becoming wealthy all of a sudden. But they will get wealth steadily and regularly. In short their economic life will be a happy and smooth one.

Some are likely to inherit properties. They will inherit landed rather than movble property. But if these persons ever try to get wealth without really working for it, they are apt to lose both money and prestige. Attraction of money is a slippery path for them, and as such it is for their benefit if they will keep away from it.

Sometimes they are harassed very much by the allurement of money. They try to acquire it. It looks as if they are winning the race, but as soon as it looks that it is within reach, it slips away, and then they are greatly disappointed. This happens due to lack of foresight and too much of self-confidence. They should try to reform these defects.

They are likely to meet with many accidents; therefore they are advised to keep away from arms etc. They are also likely to come across accidents of the type of drowning, falling down etc. They should be careful of them. Accidents like falling down and getting wounded would be very common to them.

Their old age would be full of difficulties. They will have to face the most tragic events of their lives in their old age.

In order to make life happy they should develop the habit of reading and meditating. They should never undertake more than one task at a time. They should undertake another task only when the first one is finished, otherwise it is likely they will not be able to finish any of them. Instead of becoming sorrowful and depressed, they should remain cheerful and generous. They should leave off miserliness and overwork and lead life in such a way so as to gain the maximum benefit out of it.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues

They are just, industrious, calm and patient, maintaining self-respect, sometimes thinking deeply and loving freedom. They are honest both in thought and deed, frank and open-hearted. Sometimes they keep cheerfulness even in difficulties, and smiling amidst calamities They are well-versed in keeping secrets and are ready to do anything for friends. They are ambitious, watchful and humble.

Defects

They are greedy, shameless, and spiteful.

They are selfish, run after prestige, and are well-versed in their own tasks. They are obsessed with suspicion and disappointment. The first failure is too much a shock for them, and it kills their zeal and energy. They are very talkative.

Zodiacal Signs of similar elements : Gemini and Libra.

The Sun enters Aquarius on 20th January and leaves it on 18th February.

Pesons born between these dates possess a 'manly' temperament. They possess all the necessary elements required to make a full man, and there is no doubt about it. If they get right direction and good company, they become first class persons.

They mainly engage themselves in acts of public good, and if they are given good training, they really become public servants. Since they possess unprejudiced and open hearts, they consider all men equal irrespective of their caste, creed or colour, and behave with them accordingly.

But those who have not got a proper training and whose intelligence is not developed, become narrow-minded and, their spirit of public service does not extend beyond their own caste or creed.

These persons are generous and are always eager to help others. Because of these virtues they become popular among others. They are so full of feelings that they cannot see others in distress, and they consider others' distress as their own. As they are tender-hearted they cannot bear any pain, grief or shock. They are sensitive, innocent and humble. They are truthful and idealistic in theory and practice. They always think about public good. They possess good intelligence and are just. They always try to introduce reforms and do away with conservative old traditions. They personally put the reforms in practice and set a good example. They are very faithful as friends, and maintain the friendship to the end. In case of need they do not hesitate to help. They possess unique forbearance, and cannot bear harsh words or actions of others. They never forget insults. In spite of all this they are unselfish and beneficial in friendship.

They are calm, loving, innocent, are lovers of nature and possess good intelligence. They love crafts and industries and always make improvements in these. In spite of their extraordinary abilities and efficiency, they are idle and sluggish. They like to amass wealth. Though they have a taste for music, arts and literature, they are more attracted towards philosophy and occult sciences. They have an inherent instinct for understanding others, grasp quickly what others say, and win them over by pleasing them. Since they are pure-hearted they have an aptitude for religious literature, and some of them are good astrologers, philosophers and occultists.

They are good debaters, and keep to the point in discussions. It is very difficult to defeat them in argument. Their intelligence shines out best in mechanical devices, especially in those relating to electricity. They shine out in business and banking, and they show extraordinary ability in these, but they are more successful in fields other than these.

If persons born between these dates keep their sentimental temperament in restraint, and keep themselves well-balanced, there is nothing in this world which they cannot accomplish. They shine out more in tasks involving responsibility. They take good part in public meetings, concerts aud conferences. They love to visit theatres and cinemas. Even though they mix with people, they feel that they are alone and without any company, and that there is none to care for them or to look after their well-being. They possess one most effective instrument to win the public, to have a hold on them, and that insuperable instrument is the EYE. There is magnetism in their eyes, and with this magnetism they are able to get hold on anyone and force him to obey their orders.

Children born between these dates should be made to cultivate the habit of regularity. They should be habituated to work according to fixed programme. They should never be forced to work but should be persuaded to work, otherwise they are likely to become rude and refractory. They should be advised to take in as much fresh air as possible.

Marriage:

Persons born between these dates should seek their life companions from those born between 21st May and 20th June (Gemini) as also those born between 22nd July and 21st August (Leo), and those born between 22nd September and 22nd October (Libra).

Persons born between these dates keep more of friendly relations than marriage relations. To them, marriage is not merely a union of bodies, but a symbol of lifelong deep friendship, and therefore they make ideal husbands and wives, and make their married life happy and illuminating. They look first towards their home and children. They make loving and successful parents. Their children are also clever and intelligent.

Family Happiness:

Most of these persons know no family happiness. Dissatisfaction and quarrel play a prominent part in their lives. They do not get the peace they long for because of these quarrels, and their life becomes a burden to them. In spite of this, they bear it patiently and face it calmly. But those who lack this forbearing temperament sometimes commit atrocious deeds.

Occupation :

Persons born between these dates shine out as writers, poets and demagogues. The famous poet Yeats, the well-known author Robert Louis Stevenson, and the philosopher Ruskin were born during this period. Both males and females born during this period have a natural tendency towards penmanship. Many politicians and economists are also found to have been born during this period. Since many of the persons born during this period possess an inherent attraction towards science, many well known scientists are also found to have been born during these dates. Galileo, Isaac Newton, and Charles Darwin were born during this period.

Since the intelligence of these persons is always full of novelty, and as they possess a pleasing and obliging temperament, they will shine out in dramatic and cinematic activities. In these fields their creative abilities have full opportunities to develop, and they get good response also from the public. In all tasks in which they have freedom to act as they please, and which have an element of responsibility in them, they are successful. They despise dependence and slavery. They cannot make progress as subordinates, and as such they prove failures. They achieve the best triumph in tasks wherein they are able to combine their heart and intelligence.

These persons shine out as musicians, secretaries, artisans, philologists, electricians, railway servants and engineers. They also shine out as businessmen and traders. But as they lack business ablities and the art to keep business secrets, they have sometimes to face failures, or have to bear heavy losses.

Life—Health and Happiness :

They have nothing to worry regarding their health. They are tall, handsome, awe-inspiring, and pure hearted. Their physique is strong and trained, but in most cases their hearts are weak. Many persons born during this period are found to be afflicted with heart disease. They are specially advised to be careful after the age of 40, for then they are afflicted with diseases like low circulation of blood, pain in the legs, weakness of the nerves, etc. They are also advised to be careful about their eyes. If proper care is not taken of the eyes in youth, they will have to suffer from eye-diseases in oldage. They are rarely spendthrift and reckless. Generally they do not spend as much for their own selves as they spend for others. In short they spend their wealth for the good of humanity in general. They should always remain where air is pure, and should take regular exercise. They must keep company, take moderate diet, and avoid anxiety, suspicion and perplexity.

Nature—Virtues and Ability

Persons born during this period are handsome, sensitive, of a hesitating temperament, and stick to their jobs. But when they feel depressed, when they feel that they are on the losing side, they become full of anxieties, sorrowful and disappointed.

They are found to be leading a double life. Just as triumph and defeat, darkness and light are poles apart from each other, these persons are found to be possessing two different sorts of personalities. One sort is diligent, industrious, hasty, and always frets for opportunities. The other sort is calm, possesses a youthful spirit, loves history and science, and is very fond of travelling.

Generally speaking these persons are of a calm temperament, kind, generous, active, and have sympathy for others. In money matters they are very careful and never forget to provide for the future. They do not like to become dependent on others. This very idea is obnoxious to them, and hence they always try to make themselves independent. They always think as to how their offspring may not have to lead dependent lives. They are straightforward, just and honest, and are sometimes looked upon as strict and hard task-masters.

They have an all-round proficiency. They are well-versed in the basic principles of all subjects, and hence are sometimes called 'living encyclopaedias'. They are fond of subjects like history, philosophy, astrology, and are sometimes tempted to go deeply in these subjects.

Some of these persons are crafty, deceitful and cheats, whereas some are honest and good. Their hearts are pure, but as they put too much trust on others, they make blunders. They possess deep secret love, honesty and over-confidence, and due to this they are sometimes horribly cheated. They have the passion and abilities to perform particular jobs, but as they lack self-confidence, they fail in those jobs. Since they have no self-confidence, they sometimes pass their whole time devising ways and means for performing those jobs. However, they do not rest till they have finished the job they have been entrusted with. Instead of working in a company, they like to work singly.

It is true that they are generous, but proper benefit of this generosity is never taken, and it is often misused. They are easily influenced by others, because they lack self-confidence, and sometimes commit blunders also. They are confronted with more difficulties, troubles and hardships than those born during other periods, and due to this they are well-trained. They are tried with every difficulty, every hardship. They know and learn something new every time, and due to this they acquire extraordinary strength and forbearing qualities. They are most trustworthy. They know how to keep secrets. They are benevolent, and never hesitate to help others. Though they are generous, when they begin to think of their future they become narrow-minded and donate less than what they promise. The main reason for this is the fear of the future In money matters they act in a peculiar manner. Sometimes they are very miserly, and at other times they are very extravagant. Sometimes they are duped by others because of their innocence.

As stated before two classes of persons are found among these people. One is extravagant, spendthrift and foppish. The other class possesses quite the contrary qualities and prefers to keep restraint in everything. Persons of the first class are cunning, lustful, lewd, coward, quarrelsome and deceitful whereas the second class is ascetic-minded, industrious, truthful and awe-inspiring

They are specially advised to keep a control on their temperaments and repress their evil desires. If they follow this advice, they will positively embark on the path of righteousness. But if a little relaxation is made in that, they are sure to become slaves of their desires, and then fall is certain.

These persons like swimmig, travel and sea voyage. They prefer to have their residence on the bank of a river or near the sea-coast. They have a taste for art also, and many poets, artists, musicians, and men of letters are found among the persons born during this period.

Females born during this period are more careless, more noisy, and more unskilful house hold managers than the males.

Marriage:

Persons born during this period should seek their life companions from those born between 21st June and 21st July (Cancer), as also from those born between 23rd October and 21st November (Scorpio). They are specially advised not to seek marital relations with those born during Libra and Sagittarius. If marriages take place with persons born during the favourable periods, the married life proves to be happy, joyful and smooth. There is harmony between the wife and the husband, and they respect each other.

On no account should marriage take place between persons born during the same period.

Family Happiness :

These persons are very careful as regards their family-life. They love the family. Though they love wife and children immensely, on occasions they become very strict, but this strictness is for the good of the family. They maintain strict discipline so far as the question of the family status is concerned, and force the other members of the family to carry out this discipline to the letter. A contented family is a source of satisfaction for them. In short, the family-life of these persons is happy and contented.

Occupation :

Persons born during this period are especially seafarers. Most of the sailors. travellers, merchants, canvassers, commission agents and travelling agents are found to have been born during this period. They also make good hotel proprietors, share-brokers and watchmen.

Many of them are found to have embraced the occupations of accountants. cashiers, and clerks. If they are properly trained and are fully trusted, they shine out in responsible posts and are able to carry out responsible jobs. They are successful in jobs relating to water and sea. They shine out as captains and marine officers. They are always on the winning side in all transactions of foreign trade involving seafaring and navigation.

They have a taste for literature also; hence many make good story-writers, poets and musicians. By birth they have an inclination for the occult and have great faith in it. They have great faith also in astrology, luck, etc. Their favourite subjects are history, philosophy and spiritualism. Many fortune-tellers are born during this period.

Life-Happiness and Health :

Persons born during this period possess a round plump face and mild and slightly intoxicated eyes. Their eyes possess a kind of magnetism and due to this they are able to attract others easily. They have round shoulders, but they do not have a strong physique. They are advised to be specially careful about their legs, knees and feet, because they are likely to have difficulties with these parts. They are also likely to suffer from asthma, pthisis, indigestion, blood-poisoning, cold, rheumatism, etc. The head and the back are always aching. All this ts due to weakness of the digestive organs. Therefore they are advised to have a moderate diet only. They should try to have fresh air and should never overwork. Too many anxieties are injurious to them, therefore they should always remain cheerful. Too much medicine-taking is not advisable, for it proves harmful in the long run instead of proving beneficial. It is necessary for them to remain in good company, because they are easily affected by it. By keeping clean and pure they will maintain good health.

From the economic point of view, their life would be changing frequently. At one time they will be having good time, and at the next moment they will find themselves passing through a crisis. In short it will always be changing from good to bad and vice versa. But they will hardly ever suffer from the shortage of cash. They are advised to lead a simple and pure life, and should never be angry or jealous. They are also advised to keep good company, and should always read books relating to history and biography. They should never become peevish. They should neither interfere in others' work, nor allow others to interfere in their own work. These are the golden rules to make their life happy and prosperous.

Their Virtues and Defects :

Virtues

They are foresighted, trustful, diligent, ambitious, generous and unselfish, wishing good of others, benevolent, peace-loving, active and sensitive. They carry out orders perfectly and always think of the future.

Defects

They lack self-confidence, are laggard in work, and easily lose the balance of mind in times of difficulty. They are generous in words only, but in actual action they are very slow. They are misers also.

Coalition Period

Pisces begins on 19th February, and it takes full six days to set in. Therefore the period from 19th February to 25th February is considered as the coalition period of Aquarius and Pisces. Persons born during this coalition period are extraordinary. They are bright, heroic, and full of self-confidence They are very regular, honest and trustful in their business affairs. Sometimes they are careless in giving promises, and by showing interest in secondary subjects, try to prove their taste for kindred subjects. They love merry-making and are always fully absorbed in it.
